Text

Read the following text and choose the correct answer from A,B,or C

Salem had always imagined university life as a journey toward independence and self-discovery. When he moved into a student dorm, he felt excited to begin this new chapter. The dorm was close to the university, which made attending classes easy and convenient. At first, Salem enjoyed the freedom of living away from home and managing his own time.

However, he soon realized that dorm life was more challenging than he expected. Salem shared a room with two students, Kareem and Ahmed, who had very different routines. Kareem stayed up late playing video games and talking loudly, while Ahmed woke up early every morning to study. Because of this, Salem struggled to sleep well. He often felt tired during lectures and found it difficult to concentrate.

In addition to this, Salem faced problems with shared spaces. The kitchen was often messy because some students did not clean up after cooking. This made it unpleasant for Salem to prepare his meals. The bathrooms were also crowded in the mornings, forcing him to wait when he was in a hurry.

At first, Salem felt frustrated and thought about leaving the dorm. However, he decided to find solutions instead of giving up. He bought earplugs to reduce noise at night and spoke politely with his roommates about setting simple rules. He also created a schedule to use the kitchen at quieter times.

Gradually, Salem adapted to dorm life. He became more patient and learned how to communicate effectively with others. By the end of the semester, Salem realized that these challenges had helped him grow. He had become more responsible, independent, and confident in solving problems.
