✓ Part 3A: Reading (Comprehension)

Text: Delicious Food, Deadly Stoves

Indoor air pollution is becoming a serious health issue in many developing countries. Millions of families still cook using traditional stoves that burn wood or coal. These stoves release harmful gases that can damage the lungs and cause long-term diseases.

However, some experts argue that switching to modern electric stoves is not always easy. Electricity is expensive in many areas, and not all families can afford new equipment. They believe that improving traditional stoves may be a more realistic solution.

Despite the debate, governments are trying to reduce health risks by raising awareness and supporting cleaner cooking technologies.

Questions:

1. What is the main idea of the text?
A) Cooking food is dangerous everywhere
B) Indoor air pollution is a health problem
C) Electric stoves are cheaper

2. Traditional stoves are harmful because they:
A) cook food slowly
B) release dangerous gases
C) use electricity
 3. Some experts believe electric stoves are:
A) impossible to use
B) too expensive for many families
C) the only solution
 4. What does “realistic solution” mean in the text?
A) Practical and possible
B) Expensive and new
C) Dangerous and old
 5. Governments are trying to:
A) ban cooking
B) increase pollution
C) reduce health risks
 6. The tone of the text is:
A) humorous B) informative C) emotional
 7. What is implied about poor families?
A) They prefer electric stoves
B) They cannot afford modern solutions
C) They do not cook
 8. What is the writer’s attitude?
A) Neutral and balanced
B) Angry
C) Confused

Part 3B: Reading (Medical Theme)

Text: What’s the Diagnosis?

A 45-year-old patient arrived at the clinic complaining of severe headaches, fatigue, and blurred vision. After several tests, doctors discovered that his symptoms were linked to high blood pressure. The condition had developed slowly over years due to an unhealthy lifestyle, including lack of exercise and a high-salt diet.

Doctors explained that if the patient had changed his habits earlier, the condition might have been prevented. They also warned that untreated high blood pressure could lead to heart disease or stroke.

The patient was advised to take medication, reduce salt intake, and exercise regularly. The doctor added that recovery would take time but was possible with discipline.

Questions:

1. What symptoms did the patient have?
 - A) Fever only
 - B) Headache and blurred vision
 - C) Skin rash
2. What caused the condition?
 - A) Genetics only
 - B) Unhealthy lifestyle
 - C) Infection
3. What could have prevented the illness?
 - A) More sleep
 - B) Earlier lifestyle changes
 - C) Surgery
4. What is the risk of untreated high blood pressure?
 - A) Better eyesight
 - B) Stroke or heart disease
 - C) Weight loss
5. The doctor's tone is:
 - A) encouraging
 - B) humorous
 - C) angry
6. What is the main idea?
 - A) Diet has no effect
 - B) Lifestyle affects health
 - C) Medication is useless
7. The patient is advised to:
 - A) ignore symptoms
 - B) change habits and take medicine
 - C) stop eating
8. What is implied?
 - A) Recovery is impossible
 - B) Recovery needs discipline
 - C) Doctors are unsure
