Giraffes are the tallest animals in the world. They have long necks and long legs, which help them reach the leaves on tall trees. Giraffes have big, kind eyes, and they can see very far, better than any human can. Even though they have long necks, they do not have many bones in them—just like people!

Baby giraffes are called calves. When they are born, they are already taller than most children. Giraffes live in groups and play together in the wild. They are gentle animals, but they can run fast when they need to escape danger.

Text 2

Horses are strong and fast animals. People have lived with horses for a very long time. Horses can run quickly and work hard on farms. Some horses are small, while others are very big. They have strong legs and kind eyes.

Horses help people in many ways. Long ago, they carried people from one place to another because there were no cars. Today, some people still ride horses for fun or use them to work on farms. Horses are also very smart and can learn to follow directions.
