GRAMMAR

T. BADREYAH SALEM AL HAMOUDI

Grammar Rules with Explanations and Examples

Grammar Point	Explanation	Examples
Possessive Adjectives (my, your, his, her, its, our, their)	Show who owns or possesses something. They always come before a noun and do not use an apostrophe. Examples: my → belongs to me; your → belongs to you; his → belongs to him; her → belongs to her; its → belongs to an animal or thing; our → belongs to us; their → belongs to them.	This is my pen. He loves his new bike. They sold their house.
Possessive Pronouns (mine, yours, his, hers, its, ours, theirs)	Replace a noun phrase to avoid repetition. They stand alone (not before a noun).	This pen is mine. The red car is hers. The big house is theirs.
There is / There are	Used to show that something exists or is present. 'There is' is used for singular nouns; 'There are' for plural nouns.	There is a cat on the sofa. There are many people in the park.
Prepositions	Words showing relation between things in place, time, or direction. Examples: Place – in, on, under, between; Time – at, on, in; Direction – to, from, into.	The ball is under the chair. We study at night. He walked into the room.
Adjectives (Superlatives)	Used to compare three or more things. Short adjectives → add –est; long adjectives → use most + adjective. Always use 'the' before superlatives.	This is the tallest building. She's the most intelligent student in class.
Present Continuous (G.13.2)	Describes actions happening now or around now. Structure: am / is / are + verb + –ing.	She is writing an email. They are eating lunch.
Present Perfect Continuous (G.13.4)	Describes an action that started in the past and continues now, or has just stopped but shows results in the present. Structure: have / has been + verb + –ing. We often use 'since' or 'for' to show how long the action has been	I have been studying English since 2021. She has been working here for five years. They have been waiting for happening: 'since' → the starting point (specific time/date); 'for' → duration (period of time).	an hour. He has been reading since morning.

Adjectives (Comparatives)	Used to compare two people, animals, or things. For short adjectives, add -er at the end (e.g., taller, smaller). For long adjectives, use more + adjective (e.g., more beautiful, more interesting). Use 'than' to compare.	My car is faster than your car. This book is more exciting than that one. She is taller than her sister.

Read the passage carefully. Choose the correct word (A, B, or C) to complete each blank. Write your answers on the lines below.

READING PART A-B

T. BADREYAH SALEM AL HAMOUDI

Reading Comprehension Exam – The Great Outdoors

Read the passage carefully and choose the correct answer (A, B, or C) for each question.

Text – The Adventure Weekend

It's a bright Saturday morning, and my friends and I are on our first adventure trip of the year. We're hiking up a mountain in the north, and the view is amazing! The air is colder here than in the city, but we don't mind. Everyone is carrying backpacks, and some are taking photos of the trees and birds. My friend Emma is walking ahead; she's faster than all of us. I'm trying to keep up, but I'm getting tired. After two hours, we stop to rest by a small river. The sound of the water is softer than the wind, and it makes us feel calm. Later, we're going snowboarding. I've never tried it before, but it looks exciting. Emma says snowboarding is more difficult than hiking, and I believe her! As we climb higher, I realize how much I love the outdoors. It's more peaceful than staying indoors, and every adventure teaches me something new.

Questions

- What are the friends doing in the story?
A) Playing games indoors B) Hiking up a mountain C) Swimming in a lake
- Why do they stop after two hours?
A) They are tired B) It starts to rain C) They are lost
- Who is walking faster than the others?
A) The narrator B) Emma C) No one
- Which activity will they do later?
A) Kayaking B) Rock climbing C) Snowboarding
- What does the narrator feel about the outdoors?
A) It is boring B) It is peaceful and exciting C) It is dangerous

Reading Comprehension Exam – A Day at the Beach

Read the passage carefully and choose the correct answer (A, B, or C) for each question. Each question has one correct answer. (3 marks each – total 15 marks)

Text – A Day at the Beach

It's a sunny Sunday morning, and my family is spending the day at the beach. My brother is swimming in the sea, and my dad is flying a kite. The wind is stronger than it was yesterday, so the kite is flying higher and faster. Mom is reading a book under the umbrella, and I'm building a sandcastle with my little sister. Ours is bigger than the one we made last week! People are walking along the shore, and some are playing volleyball. The beach is busier than usual because the weather is perfect. After lunch, we're going surfing. I'm excited because surfing is more challenging than swimming, but it's also more fun. It's a wonderful day full of laughter, sunshine, and family time.

Questions

1. What is the family doing at the beach?
A) Having a picnic B) Spending the day together C) Cleaning the beach
2. Why is the kite flying higher today?
A) The wind is stronger B) The kite is new C) The beach is bigger
3. Who is building a sandcastle?
A) The narrator and sister B) The father C) The mother
4. What will they do after lunch?
A) Go surfing B) Play volleyball C) Go shopping
5. How does the narrator feel about the day?

Text – Email from Emma

Subject: My First Trip to Canada

Hi Mia,

Guess what! Next month, I'm going to visit Canada for the first time! My family and I are going to stay with my uncle and aunt in Toronto. They're going to take us to see the CN Tower and Niagara Falls. I'm really excited because it's going to be winter there, and I'm going to see snow for the first time.

My cousin is going to show me her school and introduce me to her friends. I'm also bringing my camera, so I can take lots of pictures. My parents are preparing our luggage this weekend. Dad says his coat is too small, so he's going to buy a new one.

I can't wait to tell you all about my trip when I come back!

Love,

Emma
