My Next Summer Holiday

My name is I am years old. I study in Grade 7.
Today I am writing about My next summer Holiday.

Next summer holiday, I am planning to visit Dubai. I have always wanted to go there because it looks very beautiful and modern. I saw this place on TV and my friend also told me many nice things about it. I will travel with my parents and my sister. We will visit the Burj Khalifa, go shopping in big malls, and swim at the beach. I also want to try some delicious food there.

I like Dubai because it is clean, safe, and full of amazing places to see.
I feel very happy and excited to go there soon.

Part 4: Inference and Justification

The Unexpected Camping Trip Hassan and his friends had been looking forward to their camping trip in the mountains. They packed food, cooking supplies, and other things needed, eager to enjoy the fresh air and beautiful views. When they arrived at the campsite, they set up their tent, explored nearby trails, and shared stories by the fire as the sun began to set. As night approached, the temperature started to drop quickly. Hassan noticed the air felt colder than he expected, and he rubbed his arms to keep warm. He looked around at his friends, who were also starting to huddle closer to the campfire. The group fell quiet, and a few of them looked back toward their packed bags, as if suddenly realizing they might not have everything they needed for a chilly night in the mountains. Ali looked over at Hassan and whispered, "Do you think we packed enough for this kind of weather?" Hassan didn't answer, but he pulled his thin sweater closer, wondering if they had missed something important. The friends sat in silence, each one deep in thought, as the stars appeared in the clear, cold sky.

1. Inference: What do you think the group might have forgotten to bring, and why was this important for their trip? (2 Marks)

The group might have forgotten to bring warm clothes or blankets. This is important because the temperature in the mountains dropped at night, and they were feeling very cold.

2. Justification: Why is your answer to the inference question the best answer? Use the information in the text above to support your answer. (3 Marks)

This is the best answer because it is given in the text that the air felt colder than Hassan expected and he pulled his thin sweater closer. His friends also huddled near the fire to stay warm. This shows they did not bring enough warm things for the cold weather.
