Why Traveling is Amazing!

Have you ever visited a new place? Traveling means going to different towns, cities, or even countries. I think traveling is super amazing because it is a wonderful way to learn new things and have so much fun!

First, traveling is exciting because you get to see brand new places. Imagine standing on a sandy beach and feeling the warm sun, or climbing a tall mountain and seeing tiny trees below. You can visit a big city with very tall buildings, or a quiet forest with lots of animals. Every new place has something special and different to see. It is like opening a new book with a new adventure on every page!

Next, traveling helps you learn a lot without even being in a classroom. When you travel, you can learn about how other people live. You might try new foods, hear different languages, or see special clothes. You can visit museums to learn about history or go to zoos to see animals you have never seen before. Traveling teaches you about the world and makes your brain grow bigger with new ideas.

- In conclusion, traveling is truly amazing. It is a fantastic way to have fun and explore new adventures. It also helps us learn so much about different places and people. I believe everyone should try to travel and see the world, because it is an experience you will never forget!

Write a paragraph:

_____Traveling is truly amazing because it offers wonderful opportunities for fun and learning. When you visit new places, like sunny beaches or busy cities, you discover exciting sights and experience different cultures. Trying new foods, hearing new languages, and seeing unique clothes all help your brain grow with new ideas. Traveling teaches you so much about the world and creates unforgettable adventures.

Part 4&5:

Inference and justification:

Visit to the Old Souk

Read about Aisha and her visit to a traditional market. Then, answer the questions.

Aisha loves visiting the old souk with her grandmother. It is a very busy place, full of bright colors and wonderful smells. Last Friday, they walked past many shops selling shiny jewelry and soft carpets. Aisha saw big piles of sweet dates and smelled fragrant spices. Her grandmother bought some special saffron for cooking. Aisha felt warm and happy as she listened to the sounds of people talking and laughing. She thinks the souk is a beautiful part of her family's culture.

Questions

Inference

1. How does Aisha feel about visiting the old souk?

Justification

2. How do you know your answer is correct?

My Favorite Sport

Read about Ahmed and his favorite sport. Then, answer the questions.

Ahmed loves playing football with his friends. Every Tuesday afternoon, they meet at the big park. They run very fast, kick the ball, and try to score goals. Sometimes they get a little tired, but they always have fun. Ahmed feels strong and happy after playing football. He thinks it's a great way to stay healthy and learn how to work together as a team.

Questions

Inference

1. Why does Ahmed enjoy playing football so much?

Justification

2. How do you know your answer is correct?

Sports

This is a sample of high achievers.

Playing sports is incredibly important for everyone. It helps our bodies stay strong and healthy by keeping us active and fit. When we run, jump, or throw, our muscles get stronger, and our hearts work better. Beyond just physical health, sports also make us feel happy and can help reduce stress. We learn important skills like teamwork and how to be fair when we play with others. It's a fantastic way to make new friends and build confidence. So, whether it's football, swimming, or cycling, engaging in sports truly benefits both our bodies and our minds.

Sports

Simple answer (at level students)

Playing sports is very important for all of us. It helps our bodies grow strong and stay well by keeping us moving a lot. When we run, jump, and play, our muscles get big and strong, and our hearts are healthy. Sports also make us feel happy and can help us feel calm. We learn good ways to act, like working together and playing nicely with friends. It's a fun way to make new friends and feel good about ourselves. So, playing sports really helps our bodies and our brains.

Leisure activities

My favorite leisure activity is drawing colorful pictures. I love to use my crayons and markers to make all sorts of things, like animals, flowers, and even imaginary castles. It makes me feel very calm and happy to create something new. Sometimes, I also enjoy reading adventure books. It's fun to imagine the stories in my head. These activities help me relax after a long day at school and let my mind be creative.

Leisure activities are things we do for fun when we are not working or in school. These are special times when we can choose what makes us happy and relaxed. Maybe you like to read a good book, draw colorful pictures, or play exciting games. Some people enjoy building with blocks, while others like spending time outside in a park. Doing these fun things helps our brains rest and makes us feel calm and joyful. They are important because they help us feel good and enjoy our time.

Free time!

Free time is a very special part of our day. It is the time when we don't have to do schoolwork or chores, and we can choose exactly what we want to do for fun! During free time, we can play games, read our favorite books, or spend time with family and friends. It's important to have free time because it helps our minds and bodies rest. When we relax and do things we enjoy, we feel happy and ready for new challenges.
