|  Scenario 1: Emirati Neighbourhood Memories Traditional Emirati homes and neighbourhoods have unique designs, routines and traditions that show what daily life was like in the past. Learning about these places helps students understand how families lived, worked and supported one another, and it also helps build a strong sense of Emirati cultural identity. However, some students do not know what homes in the UAE looked like long ago or how daily routines were different from today. How can students learn more about old homes and daily life in Emirati neighbourhoods in a meaningful and respectful way? Work with your team to create a 'Neighbourhood Memories' Project that shows daily routines and traditions in Emirati communities. Share your ideas in an engaging way and explain why these traditions still matter today. | |
|  Scenario 2: Responsible Homes Being a good citizen begins at home, where young people learn important habits that help their families and communities. How can students show responsibility in their homes and the places where they live? Work with your team to create a 'Responsible Homes' Plan that shows how students can practise responsibility. Present your ideas clearly and explain how this strengthens families and communities. | |
|  Scenario 3: Green Homes of the Past In the past, houses in the UAE were built to stay cool without using much energy. Some students today do not know how daily routines and household items were different before electricity. How can students learn about these eco-friendly ideas from the past? Work with your team to create a 'Green Homes' Showcase that explains eco-friendly designs of the past. Share your ideas in an engaging way and show how they inspire solutions today. | |
|  Scenario 4: My Responsible Energy Home Using electricity and water wisely at home helps protect the environment and supports a more sustainable future. You can play an important role by building good habits and making small changes that make a big difference. How can you help your family save energy and care for the planet? Work with your team to create a 'Responsible Energy' Plan that shows ways families can save resources at home. Present your ideas clearly and explain how these actions protect the environment. | |

Working Towards GLG (Stage 4 – CEFR B2.1 | ENG.04 Working Towards GLG)

In the UAE, old neighbourhoods show how people lived in the past. Some are being changed or rebuilt. The class will talk about how to keep Emirati neighbourhoods special and share their stories with others.

At GLG (Stage 4 – CEFR B2.2 | ENG.04 Working At GLG)

Across the UAE, old neighbourhoods tell stories of family life, friendship and tradition. Many are now being restored or redesigned. The class will plan how to show the importance of these places and help people remember their value.

Beyond GLG (Stage 4 – CEFR B2.3 | ENG.04 Confident Working Beyond GLG)

Across the UAE, historic neighbourhoods connect people to their roots and tell stories of community and tradition. As cities grow, these spaces risk being forgotten. How can we preserve and share their memories in ways that honour the past and inspire the future? Work with your team to create an “Emirati Neighbourhood Memories” project that shows how these areas can be remembered and valued. Present your ideas clearly and explain how they protect national identity and community spirit.
