2 Question: How did Bedouins hide from the hot sun?

Answer: Bedouins lived in tents to hide from the hot sun.

3 Question: Did Bedouins use camels?

Answer: Yes, Bedouins used camels for many different things.

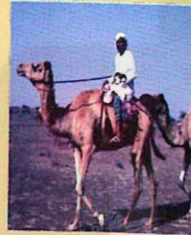

Living in the Desert

Bedouins were some of the first people to live in the desert. A number of things helped them to live in the hot, dry desert.

They found places with water and date palms. These are called 'oases'. Oases were very important for people living in the desert. People ate the dates and drank the water there.

The desert is hot and sunny so Bedouins lived in tents. These are small houses made from cloth. It hid the Bedouins from the hot sun.

Camels were very important to Bedouins. Bedouin tribes ate camel meat and drank camel milk. They used camel hair to make clothes. The camels were also important for travelling. Camels can carry heavy things like tents and food and they don't need a lot of water. Camels are still very important in the UAE today.

Activity 4 Practice

Write two questions about the information in the text. Then, quiz your partner.

Question 1: Why were oases important to the Bedouins?

Answer: Because they found water and date palms there for drinking and eating.

Question 2: How did camels help Bedouins in the desert?

Answer: Camels carried heavy things, gave milk and meat, and didn't need much water.

Activity 5 Speaking

Answer the questions with a partner.

- What did you learn about life in the desert? What did you know before?
- Would you prefer to live in the desert, in the mountains or by the sea? Why?

1. What did you learn about life in the desert? What did you know before?

I learned that Bedouins lived in tents, used camels for travel, and found food and water at oases. Before.

I knew that deserts are very hot and dry.

2. Would you prefer to live in the desert, in the mountains, or by the sea? Why?

I would prefer to live by the sea because the weather is cooler, and I enjoy swimming.
