Reading Passage

My name is Hanan, and I am from the United Arab Emirates. I am 25 years old, and I study business at university. I enjoy reading, traveling, and meeting new people. When I introduce myself to others, I usually start with my name, where I come from, and what I do.

Last week, I went to a conference. At the beginning, I felt a little nervous because I didn't know anyone there. A friendly woman came to me and said, "Hello, my name is Aisha. What's your name?" I smiled and replied, "I'm Hanan, nice to meet you." After that, she introduced me to her colleague, Omar. She said, "Hanan, this is my friend Omar. Omar, this is Hanan." We shook hands and started talking.

I learned that making introductions is very important. It helps people feel comfortable, shows respect, and builds connections. Now, I feel more confident when I meet new people, and I always try to smile and use polite expressions.
