Wedding party(حفلة الزفاف)

أجتهاد : يعقوب عبدالله المرباطى

I like going to parties very much. I think in a party a person can entertain and enjoy himself very much.

Last month I was invited to my friend's wedding party. It was in the Gulf Hotel. I went there with my friends. I first bought a new suit for me and, of course, a present for my friend. On the big day, we arrived there and found everything was ready and prepared well. A big and beautiful stage was prepared; it was decorated with flowers and colourful lights. There was also a musical band. The tables were full of different types of soft drinks and nuts. There were lots of people, of course, they were all well dressed.

The party started at 8:00 o'clock with the arrival of the bride and the groom with their families. They both looked very beautiful in their wedding clothes. All the guests enjoyed singing and dancing with the musical band. I felt very happy and danced a lot. They took lots of lovely photos. Then food, sweets and drinks were served. After that, presents were presented. The party was a very lovely one and I enjoyed it very much. Finally, I went home very tired but excited.

Dear Abdulla,

This is Hani. Remember me? We were neighbours in Isa Town. We haven't seen each other for mostly fifteen years, right?

Anyway, how are you? I got your address from our friend Sami. What are you doing now? Where do you work? I remember that you always like watching movies, especially comedy ones. Do you still watch them? You always wanted to be a teacher.

At the moment I am working at a large company. I am an accountant. I think I have changed a lot over years. You knew I wanted to be an engineer. I also don't watch films nowadays because I have no time for that. Do you remember Jamal; he used to watch films with us. He is working with me in the same company.

Well, I must finish now because I've to take my family to the park. Write back soon and tell me all your news.

Best Wishes,
Hani.

As a matter of fact, Bahrain has witnessed many changes. It has changed a lot over years. Schools become more developed, the Ministry began a new project called E-Learning in which computers and other modern technologies are widely used in our schools. So students will be much more equipped to meet these technologies and the outside world easily. Bahrain as other countries began using from years the modern way of telecommunication through using mobile phones. And what's more democracy, people now feel free to express their ideas easily.

Well, I must finish now because I've to take my family to the park. Write back soon and tell me all your news.

Best Wishes,

Gandi (الغاندي)

أجتهاد : يعقوب عبدالله الرباطي

Gandi was born in 1869 in India. He spent his childhood there. He wasn't very good at school. He married when he was very young -at the age of thirteen. In 1888 he went to England where he studied law. From 1893 to 1914 he worked in South Africa, and then returned to India. In 1919, he entered politics

Gandi became the leader of the Indian nationalist movement. He saw what the British did in his country. He decided to defend his own country and free it from the British, but in his own way. He believed in non-violence to achieve political and social progress. Because of his peaceful struggle and encouraging people to rebel against the British, he spent much time in prison. But finally he managed to get independence for his country following his way. Tragically, Gandi was killed by his own people.

I think Gandi was one of the greatest leaders who brought independence for his country. A person we must respect and appreciate a lot.

Eid Al-Fitter

(عيد الفطر)
أجتهد : يعقوب عبدالله المرباطي

Eid Al - Fitter is held every year on the first of Shawal. Muslims celebrate it after fasting the whole month of Ramadan.

Families start preparing for this day from the beginning of Ramadan. They buy new clothes for the whole family; they also prepare or buy sweets and things to be served for their guests. Women clean everything in the house. The national flags are also hoisted and streets are decorated.

On the first day, people start with going to the mosques early in the morning for Al-Eid prayer. Then, men start visiting their closest relatives to congratulate them and wish them many happy returns. On this day, people forgive each other. Young boys and girls wear their new clothes and begin visiting others singing and laughing all the day. They also visit their neighbours, who give them presents. Each family gathers in the house of the eldest and has a meal there. In the evening, the youngest begin visiting Malls and walk happily in the streets.

This is one of the most important ceremonies that Muslims celebrate every year.

(وصف سوق محلي) Describing a Local Market

Isa Town Local Market

أجتهد : يعقوب عبدالله المرابطي

There is a local market in Isa Town. It is held every Friday and Saturday. It is not old. It is big and organized. It starts in the morning till the evening. Many of the market stalls (shops) sell clothes, old and new, they are good but they are not fashionable. In some stalls you can find different kinds of birds and animals. So if you like having pets, it's easy for you to have one. My brother's favourite stall sells books and CD; he always goes there and buys lots of books and movies on CDs.

You can also buy or exchange your mobile phone easily there, because there are many stalls, which sell or exchange them. My favourite stalls sell different kinds of fruits and foods such as chocolate, chips, drinks and biscuits. Most of the stalls sell used and old appliances and different types of tools. I like going there because we often find some really good bargains.

Bravery story (قصة شجاعة)

أجتهاد : يعقوب عبدالله المرباطي

Last week I was wondering down town. The weather was fine. It was afternoon. I wanted to do some shopping. Suddenly, I heard people screaming and running. I ran toward the sound and I found lots of people gathering in front of one of the shops. The shop was on fire. People were frightened. They were shouting that the owner was trapped in the fire; others were throwing water on the fire. Some were trying to take things out of the shop. I helped them carrying things out of the shop.

Meanwhile, I saw a man who was about to get into the shop to rescue the owner. I decided to help him doing so. We both dashed inside at the risk of our lives. We were choking and couldn't see because of the heavy smoke. However, we managed to get to the owner and rescue his life. During this the rescue team arrived and managed to put the fire out. They saw what we did, they said that it was something good to help and they gave us a certificate for our bravery.

I think we weren't really heroes, but it was our duty. However, we felt very happy and proud.

Describe a place you like

Al- Bandar Beach

One of my favourite places in Bahrain is Al-Bandar Beach. It's in Sitra. It is a very relaxing place because it is peaceful and you can feel comfortable there. The beach is big and has lots of small and big boats. It's a clean and beautiful area and the sand is lovely to play with. It also has lots of different types of restaurants and game halls.

I usually go there with my friends on Thursdays. We usually spend the day and night there. We play lovely games such as football, volleyball and cards. We have a tour in one of the boats and swim in the pools there. At night we make fire and sit around it talking about our adventures and telling lovely stories. We also sing lovely songs and dance.

But the only problem there is some young boys misbehave and make noise.
