Q3: Read the text carefully.

Hi, I'm Mariam. Last weekend, my friends and I were in the school garden helping our teacher with a history project. She told us that there was an old time capsule buried under the big tree near the playground. We were very excited and started digging carefully with small shovels. After about forty minutes, we found a rusty metal box covered with dirt. Inside the box, there were old coins, black-and-white photos, postcards, a small toy car, and a newspaper from 1975. Our teacher explained that the time capsule was made by students many years ago. We cleaned the objects and talked about how life was different in the past. It was an amazing experience we will never forget!

A. Read then write (T) for true and (F) for false.

1. Mariam and her friends found the time capsule in their classroom. ____
2. The time capsule was under a big tree near the playground. ____
3. Inside the box, there were only coins and letters. ____
4. The time capsule was made by students many years ago. ____
5. Mariam and her friends cleaned the objects after they found them. ____

B. Answer the following questions.

1- Where was the time capsule buried?

2- What items did Mariam and her friends find inside the time capsule?

Remember

Present perfect

Use the present perfect to talk about actions in the past that are still true now.

You've made a mess.

Present perfect = have / has + past participle

since

Use the present perfect and since to talk about past actions after a certain time or date, e.g. January, last Tuesday, 2006, four o'clock.

Ben has had woodwork lessons since he was eight.

for

Use the present perfect and for to talk about past actions in a period of time, e.g. a week, three years, five hours, a month.

He's worked on this wooden table for two weeks.

already / yet / before / just

Use these time words with the present perfect:

I've already built the set.

I haven't learnt the script yet.

I haven't been in a play before.

Karen has just finished the costumes.

Look! These time words are used in different places in the sentence.
