During break time, she talks and plays with her friends. After school, she does her homework and helps her mother at home by cleaning and tidying up the house. I. Read the following paragraph.

There are many different outdoor jobs that people can do. For example, farmers grow food like fruits, vegetables, and grains. Their work is important because it gives us food to eat. Builders work outside to make houses, schools, and roads. They use tools and machines to do their job. Gardeners take care of flowers, trees, and grass in parks and gardens. They help keep places clean and beautiful. Park rangers work in forests and national parks. They protect animals, help visitors, and make sure people follow the rules. Outdoor jobs have many benefits. People get fresh air, sunlight, and more exercise. These jobs help people stay active and healthy. Also, being in nature can make people feel happy and relaxed. Outdoor jobs are good for people who don't like sitting at a desk all day. These workers help the community and take care of the world around us.

2. Read again and put (T) for true and (F) for false:

1. Read the following paragraph.

Today, we use many technology tools every day to help us learn, work, and have fun. A computer is a powerful tool we can use to write documents, search for information online, and play games. A smartphone is small and easy to carry. It lets us call and message people, take photos, and use many apps with the internet. A tablet is like a small, flat computer that we can hold in our hands. It is great for reading and drawing. A printer gives us paper copies of things we write or draw on the computer. A projector shows pictures or videos on a big screen, which is helpful for class presentations. A headset lets us listen to music or talk during online classes. A smartwatch shows the time, messages, and even health information like steps or heart rate. Technology is very helpful and useful for us these days, but we need to use it wisely and not to depend on it entirely or too much.

2. Read again and match the description to the device:

1. _____ This machine gives you a paper copy of your digital work.
2. _____ You wear this on your wrist to check time, messages, and steps..
