Signs of Lying

How can you tell ... (0) ... someone is lying to you? According to many experts, you can find all the information you need in ... (1) ... body language. Our hands, for example, ... (2) ... quite reliable signs of lying. If someone touches their nose or mouth ... (3) ... speaking, their chances of lying are far greater. When trying to deceive, people also tend to keep their hands ... (4) ... closer to their body.

Most modern lie detection, however, focuses ... (5) ... the eyes. Some experts claim that the direction our eyes move when answering questions shows whether we are ... (6) ... a lie or not. Apparently, most people ... (7) ... slightly to the left, when remembering a real event, but slightly to ... (8) ... right when inventing story.

It takes a lot of hard work to become good ... (9) ... spotting a liar. Now that you know some of the signs, why not ask a friend some questions and put ... (10) ... ideas in the test?

1		Pauline and her friend Janet like to go out on Friday evening in town to relax after work and enjoy a meal together last week they had Chinese food. They are both vegetarians and they love trying new restaurants and different kinds of food.
2		Mr. and Mrs. Green are celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary and they are looking for somewhere special for a romantic dinner for two they like eating fresh fish and would like to listen to some music. They don't mind if the price is high.
3		Jason will be 18 at the end of the month. His parents have said he can have a party. He wants to invite 10 friends and go somewhere where they can have some to eat and dance.
4		Andrew would like to take his family out this weekend. He and his wife have two children aged 7 and 9, and his elderly mother also lives with them. He would like to go somewhere with a car park, where the food is English and reasonably priced.
5		Michelle and Lauren are students and have just moved into a new flat after a tiring day they are hungry and because everything is still in boxes. They want to eat out or get a takeaway but they do not want to spend a lot of money.

Places to eat in and around town

A	The Plaiçe I think this is a great name for a fish restaurant! They offer the best fish and chips in town and it is fantastic value for money. My children love it and sometimes we eat there although usually we stop in on the way home and bring something back with us especially if I have had a hard day at work!
B	Riverside Restaurant The best thing about this out-of-town restaurant is its romantic setting overlooking the river. There is a large dining area upstairs and a small dancing hall downstairs. The food is OK but nothing special and reasonably priced and although they were extremely busy, everyone working there was very friendly and helpful.
C	The Riverboat If you are looking for something different, this old ferry boat on the river is a good choice. It is 2 km from the center of town and there is a car park on the riverside and a very good piano player. The food is pricey but excellent, especially the fish which was delicious. The waiter said it was today's catch and I believe him.
D	A Taste of Thailand The surroundings here are so beautiful, and I love the way that Thai people prepare their food with flower shaped carrots and tomatoes decorating the plates. The waitress was charming and very helpful. Some dishes are spicy but not all and they do an excellent meal for four so you can try different dishes, (but this is not suitable for vegetarians).
E	Cliff's Carvery This new restaurant opened last month on North Street and has a small car park at the back. This is a restaurant for meat lovers. It's a buffet style so you can fill your plate with as much or as little as you like. There is a choice of roast meat, a selection of hot fresh vegetables, and a salad bar for the main course and a delicious variety of desserts.
F	Mario's Restaurant Last week we went to this little family, run restaurant to celebrate our son's graduation. He is vegetarian, but my husband likes to eat meat, and the menu was suitable for both of them. They had some live music which was entertaining, but it was a pity that the service was so slow.

1	 Isabel works in the city center and likes painting and drawing in her free time. She wants to practice her hobby in a small, quiet park near her house.
2	 Mr Martin wants to take his eight-year-old pupils to a park anywhere within the city, with lots of organised activities which allow the children to read about local wildlife they may see.
3	 Kumiko and Atsuko would like to visit a park which they can get to by boat. They want to buy lunch there and then enjoy short walk accompanied by an expert leader.
4	 Hans and Birgit Kaufmann and their family want to visit a park which is historically important. Their teenage children would like to try a water sport.
5	 Melanie and Amelia are students who need to visit a busy for a college project. They want to draw people taking part in team sports and watching entertainment.

Parks in and around the city
A	Highdown Park The largest and most popular open space in the city, Highdown has many paths for keen walkers, as well as horse-riding and golf. The much-visited 19th-century glasshouses contain an interesting exhibition about birds from around the world.
B	Brock Park A beautiful park on the edge of the city, Brock Park attracts huge crowds. The open-air theatre has a programme of plays suitable for school groups. There is a well-used basketball court and baseball field, a children's playground and a café. Climb Harry's Hill to admire the beautiful fields and forests beyond the city.
C	Boscawen Park This small and peaceful park offers guided tours, given by the knowledgeable Environment Officers, and evening visitors to the park may be lucky enough to see rare frogs and bats. It is situated on the River Elton and can be reached in about 30 minutes from the city center by river taxi. There is a snack bar and gift shop.
D	Victoria Park This quiet park, on the edge of the city and easy to visit by public transport, has boats for hire on the lake, a skateboard park, basketball and tennis courts and a picnic area. Often seen in postcard views of the city, Victoria Park contains one of the oldest windmills in the country the museum should not be missed.
E	East Bank Park This is a tiny, little-known park in the heart of the city, with gardens filled with sculptures, trees and flowers. It makes a perfect resting place, popular with local artists, and is within minutes of the theatre and entertainment district.
F	Elmwood Park At Elmwood Park, there are walks on well-made paths and cycle rides for all abilities. Elmwood is just inside the city limit and has an area of quiet woodland which is home to deer and other animals. The visitor centre, numerous display boards and a fun quiz make this a positive learning experience for all ages.

The people below are all looking for a guidebook about Britain. On the following page, there are descriptions of six guidebooks.

Decide which guidebook (A-F) would be the most suitable for each of them (1-5). There is one extra guidebook.

(5 × 2 = 10 marks)

1	.....		Claudia is interested in the history of Britain. She wants to visit as many old cities as she can and needs lists of inexpensive hotels, as well as information about public transport.
2	.....		Dominique is an art student who is interested in seeing the most important art galleries in Britain. She needs to find out how to get to them by train and bus.
3	.....		Rachel often visits different parts of Britain. She wants information about the best hotels and some advice on where to go out and enjoy herself in the evenings.
4	.....		Paolo wants to spend time in the countryside and go walking. He needs to find out about inexpensive accommodations. He does not have a car.
5	.....		Peter has visited the main British tourist centres before. So, he now wants to see the less popular towns and cities. He has lots of time and would like information on which quiet country roads to use.

Guidebooks on Britain

A	This book is for travelers who have money to spend. Top-quality hotels are listed, as well as excellent restaurants, shops, theatres, and cinemas that stay open until very late at night. Color maps and photographs of Britain's most important city centres make it an attractive and useful publication.
B	If you would like to know more about Britain's history but are tired of museums, this book will take you on a tour of the British countryside, stopping at castles and historical sites. For keen walkers, there are suggested routes, but a car is necessary to reach the start of each one.
C	This author stays away from the main tourist centres, which are well covered in other books. He tells us instead about the many towns and villages which are usually forgotten but are certainly worth visiting. His suggested routes avoiding the noisy motorways give a wonderful opportunity to drive through the beautiful countryside.
D	The author covers the history of a number of important British cities and also provides practical information about each one, including names of inexpensive hotels. The train and bus information may go out of date very quickly, but phone numbers are provided so routes can be checked.
E	This book contains 100 walks through fields and forests in different parts of the country. Every walk starts from a town or city, and some walks can be completed in a day. On other walks, you need to stay somewhere overnight. However, suggestions of inexpensive places to stay on the routes are included, as well as information about where to eat and public transport.
F	This new book gives useful information on galleries and museums. Unusually, it includes not just the main cities but also suggests visiting smaller towns whose museums and art galleries contain valuable collections. At the back, there is useful advice on using public transport to travel around Britain.

A Total Reality Experience

Drawing, storytelling and even films are some of the different ways that people have tried to recreate reality. But it's only in the past fifty years that technology has advanced enough to allow people to experience and see other environments and places using virtual reality (VR) 3D headsets. The next step in VR development will be that users get a complete interactive experience of the environment they are exploring. They will be able to see, touch and hear everything in their VR environment.

The first use for total experience VR is in the gaming industry. Imagine how gamers could actually play golf on a VR golf course or really drive Formula 1 racing car! The possibilities are endless. But VR won't just be for fun and games. It will also be a giant leap forward for education. It will transform how people learn different skills and subjects. Learning to drive a car, fly a plane or even perform brain surgery will be absolutely risk-free.

Also, students won't need a textbook to learn about life in the past as they will be able to live the life of a 14th century farmer or as a boudin in the Sahara. Already, there are educational apps which allow students to use VR headsets and go on exciting virtual school trips to museums, coral reefs, rainforests and many more! Imagine seeing the space through the eyes of an astronaut! Or going to dangerous places like the Amazon Rainforest or extreme environments- with a click of a button while you are sitting in your classroom.

It won't be long before we use VR for online shopping and businesses use it to advertise for their products. Nowadays. When we buy things online, we can only see photos of products, but with VR devices we will be able to tour virtual shops and even touch the products we are interested in! But that's not all. Have you ever been disappointed by a holiday you booked online? Well, in future you will be able to take a virtual tour of your accommodation before you make any decisions! There is simply no limit to the ways we will be able to use Virtual Reality.

As advanced VR equipment becomes more affordable, it's going to reach more and more people. It will change the way we live, work and play forever! Virtual Reality is going to completely change the way we see our world and we will even be able to control reality for our own benefit.

Peer Pressure

Peer pressure is when you think you should do something because other people your age say you should, or because everyone else is doing it, too. This could mean wearing certain clothes, or maybe smoking, or even skipping school. Sometimes people do things because they want to be liked, or they worry that they'll get teased if they don't follow the crowd. Peer pressure can indeed be challenging, especially during adolescence when the desire to fit in is strong. It's normal to want to fit in with everyone else, but in the end people will think you're a lot cooler if you learn to make your own decisions.

What to look out for:

- When people try to get you to do or try something, they might say 'everyone else is doing it, so why aren't you?'
- If you don't want to do something but you do it anyway, you'll probably regret it.
- Nobody should be made to do anything they don't want to.

Are you feeling peer pressure?

- It's hard if you're the only one saying no to something, but be brave.
- Knowing the facts about certain behaviors or activities can help you to make informed decisions. Understanding the possible outcomes of actions can help you resist pressure more effectively.
- If your friends want you to do something and you're not sure, ask yourself how you really feel about it and stick to what you believe. When you believe in yourself and your values, you're more likely to make decisions that support your principles.
- If you say no to something, real friends should respect your decision. If they don't, maybe you need to find new friends. Surround yourself with friends who share your values and interests. Having a supportive social circle can reduce the likelihood of giving in to negative peer pressure.
- It's better to have a few friends who want the best for you than lots of friends who try and make you do things you don't want to do.
- Learn to express your thoughts and opinions confidently. Saying "no" doesn't mean you have to be challenging, but being confident allows you to stand firm in your decisions.

Is a friend of yours feeling peer pressure?

- If your friend doesn't want to do something either, back them up by saying no, too. This can really help them and it'll make peer pressure easier to resist.
- Help them make their own choices - they will gain confidence.
- Be careful not to put pressure on your friends.

C.A. Read the sentences carefully, circle (T) for true or (F) for false (1 × 8 = 8 marks)

Information for New Sky Mobile Customers

Welcome to Sky Mobile, one of the fastest-growing mobile phone networks in the UK. You can go almost anywhere in the UK and use your Sky phone. Our service now reaches up to 85% of the UK population. With Sky Mobile, you have total freedom to talk, take messages or send a text message practically anywhere, at any time.

In a recent questionnaire about mobile phone networks, people voted Sky Mobile the top service provider in the country. We take our customers seriously and intend to ensure that everyone receives the service they expect.

The easiest way to buy talk time on your phone is by credit card. If you haven't done so already, please let us know which card you'll be using. Then, whenever you need talk time, call 440, free of charge, and tell us the amount you want to buy. If you do not want to use your credit card, vouchers are available from many stores.

You can also send text messages with Sky phones. These are a quick and inexpensive way to contact friends. They are perfect for when talking is difficult, when the music is too loud or when you want to keep something private. Sending a message costs as little as 5 pence but receiving one is free.

Sky Mobile also provides an information service for its mobile phone users. This service gives you recorded information, 24 hours a day, on sport (all the news, plus the day's football and rugby results), weather and finance. Just call 166 from your Sky phone. Calls cost 20 pence per minute at all times and are charged by the second. With Sky phone, you can also receive text messages to remind you of important dates. When you register with Sky Mobile, you should enter your diary dates, for example friends' birthdays, into a personal calendar. You will then receive a text message, with plenty of time to spare, as a reminder.

The answerphone service provided by Sky Mobile includes a facility for you to record a message. It's also possible to change your message whenever you like, so you can let people know exactly what you're doing. To record a message on your Sky answerphone, just dial 234 and follow the instructions.

When callers have left messages, it costs just 10 pence per minute to hear them. The cost of a call depends on the time of day that you make it. It is normally cheaper to make calls between 6.00 p.m. and 6.00 a.m. However, with Sky Mobile, it is possible to choose a different period. You have the choice of morning hours (7.00 am to 11.00 am); lunchtime (11.00 am to 3.00 pm); or afternoon (3.00 pm to 7.00 pm).

A- Look at the statements below. Read the text and write (T) if the statement is true or write (F) if the statement is false.

Writing

1. Cover Letter

( A Letter of Application)

Write a cover letter of 100–120 words applying for a part-time position in an ethical shoe shop. Explain why you want the job and why you are suitable for the position.

The Manager
Ethical Shoe Shop
Sakheir Street
Kingdom of Bahrain

Sara Ahmed
P.O Box 111
Kingdom of Bahrain

Dear Sir/ Madam,

11th Feb 2025

Application for part-time cashier.

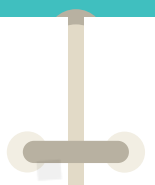

I am writing to apply for this position which I saw advertised on your website.

I am a secondary school student, and I am looking for part-time work to fit in with my studies. I am interested in this position as I have always been enthusiastic about shoe fashion and the environment. I think it is important to have more shops that sell eco-friendly shoes.

I am a self-confident, organised and responsible person. I speak different languages, including Arabic, English and French. Also, I have previous experience of working in a supermarket.

As noted in my attached CV, I believe that my skills and personality are a very good fit for this position. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,
Sara Ahmed

Ocean exploration Vs. Space exploration

Exploration is very important for all people. Some people believe that exploration should be focused on ocean .Others believe it should be focused on space. Which is better?

Some people believe we should focus on exploring outer space because it is more popular and has proven its worth with many advancements. However, the ocean cover more than 70% of the Earth, and we have explored only around 5% of them. We still need to know more about them.

Many people who focus on exploring outer space say that outer space can give us new medicines and cool gadgets, plus teach us about other planets. Although space exploration has benefits, oceans, however, have major benefits, it gives us food, medicine, and even the air we need to breathe.

All in all, it is clearly better to give attention, time, effort, and money to ocean exploration, because it is more useful . Ocean exploration has major benefits in many ways.

An unforgettable day!

There are a lot of family pictures that I love, but this one is my favourite. It is a picture of me holding my newborn little sister. Whenever I look at it, I remember the day my little sister was born.

It was Friday afternoon, and the whole family was gathering at my grandpa's house. My cousin came and told me that my mother was asking for me. When I went to her, she said that she was going to the hospital. "Your little sister is ready to come into the world!" she said. "You're going to be a big sister!" I was so excited! I hugged her before she left. After a few hours, my father called and informed us that my mother gave birth and she and the baby were fine.

At night, I went to see them at the hospital. I was happy and thrilled when my father put my baby sister in my arms "Smile for the picture, big sister!" he said while taking a photo of us. It was a graceful day.

The Longest Space Mission

The U.A.E astronaut Sultan Al Neyadi successfully set a record for being the first Arab who went on the longest space mission. This space mission lasted for 6 months.

To stay in the space for a long time is a difficult mission, because it needs lots of training before you go to there and you have to know how to use high-tech machines. Also, there is no water or even oxygen to breathe. The weather there is really difficult to manage because it is freezing. Added to that , there is no gravity in the space which means that if someone stayed there for long time it will be more exposed to muscles and bones loss.

Sultan Al Neyadi has trained for months before he started his mission. This mission was a huge success. Sultan always encourages youth to go on adventure and explore if they have the passion.

b. You went on a trip with your spring club and they need a report about it for their journal. Write a news report for your spring club about your trip. Use the information below to help you write:

On the Top of the Mountain

On May 2024, the spring club member and I went on a climbing trip. We successfully reached the top of the Smoke Mountain in Sakheir, Bahrain.

Climbing mountains is a difficult mission, because it needs lots of training before you go there. Also, the path is rough, rocky and it has steep slope. Carrying heavy bags while climbing makes it a really difficult mission. What makes things worse is hot weather and if you climb at night, it will be dark because there is no lights there.

Before we went there, we have trained and exercised a lot for months to succeed in our mission. So if you have the passion for something , you have to achieve it because, nothing is impossible.

A Total Reality Experience

Drawing, storytelling and even films are some of the different ways that people have tried to recreate reality. But it's only in the past fifty years that technology has advanced enough to allow people to experience and see other environments and places using virtual reality (VR) 3D headsets. The next step in VR development will be that users get a complete interactive experience of the environment they are exploring. They will be able to see, touch and hear everything in their VR environment.

The first use for total experience VR is in the gaming industry. Imagine how gamers could actually play golf on a VR golf course or really drive Formula 1 racing car! The possibilities are endless. But VR won't just be for fun and games. It will also be a giant leap forward for education. It will transform how people learn different skills and subjects. Learning to drive a car, fly a plane or even perform brain surgery will be absolutely risk-free.

Also, students won't need a textbook to learn about life in the past as they will be able to live the life of a 14th century farmer or as a boudin in the Sahara. Already, there are educational apps which allow students to use VR headsets and go on exciting virtual school trips to museums, coral reefs, rainforests and many more! Imagine seeing the space through the eyes of an astronaut! Or going to dangerous places like the Amazon Rainforest or extreme environments- with a click of a bottom while you are sitting in your classroom.

It won't be long before we use VR for online shopping and businesses use it to advertise for their products. Nowadays. When we buy things online, we can only see photos of products, but with VR devices we will be able to tour virtual shops and even touch the products we are interested in! But that's not all. Have you ever been disappointed by a holiday you booked online? Well, in future you will be able to take a virtual tour of your accommodation before you make any decisions! There is simply no limit to the ways we will be able to use Virtual Reality.

As advanced VR equipment becomes more affordable, it's going to reach more and more people. It will change the way we live, work and play forever! Virtual Reality is going to completely change the way we see our world and we will even be able to control reality for our own benefit.

Peer Pressure

Peer pressure is when you think you should do something because other people your age say you should, or because everyone else is doing it, too. This could mean wearing certain clothes, or maybe smoking, or even skipping school. Sometimes people do things because they want to be liked, or they worry that they'll get teased if they don't follow the crowd. Peer pressure can indeed be challenging, especially during adolescence when the desire to fit in is strong. It's normal to want to fit in with everyone else, but in the end people will think you're a lot cooler if you learn to make your own decisions.

What to look out for:

- When people try to get you to do or try something, they might say 'everyone else is doing it, so why aren't you?'
- If you don't want to do something but you do it anyway, you'll probably regret it.
- Nobody should be made to do anything they don't want to.

Are you feeling peer pressure?

- It's hard if you're the only one saying no to something, but be brave.
- Knowing the facts about certain behaviors or activities can help you to make informed decisions. Understanding the possible outcomes of actions can help you resist pressure more effectively.
- If your friends want you to do something and you're not sure, ask yourself how you really feel about it and stick to what you believe. When you believe in yourself and your values, you're more likely to make decisions that support your principles.
- If you say no to something, real friends should respect your decision. If they don't, maybe you need to find new friends. Surround yourself with friends who share your values and interests. Having a supportive social circle can reduce the likelihood of giving in to negative peer pressure.
- It's better to have a few friends who want the best for you than lots of friends who try and make you do things you don't want to do.
- Learn to express your thoughts and opinions confidently. Saying "no" doesn't mean you have to be challenging, but being confident allows you to stand firm in your decisions.

Is a friend of yours feeling peer pressure?

- If your friend doesn't want to do something either, back them up by saying no, too. This can really help them and it'll make peer pressure easier to resist.
- Help them make their own choices - they will gain confidence.
- Be careful not to put pressure on your friends.

Information for New Sky Mobile Customers

Welcome to Sky Mobile, one of the fastest-growing mobile phone networks in the UK. You can go almost anywhere in the UK and use your Sky phone. Our service now reaches up to 85% of the UK population. With Sky Mobile, you have total freedom to talk, take messages or send a text message practically anywhere, at any time.

In a recent questionnaire about mobile phone networks, people voted Sky Mobile the top service provider in the country. We take our customers seriously and intend to ensure that everyone receives the service they expect.

The easiest way to buy talk time on your phone is by credit card. If you haven't done so already, please let us know which card you'll be using. Then, whenever you need talk time, call 440, free of charge, and tell us the amount you want to buy. If you do not want to use your credit card, vouchers are available from many stores.

You can also send text messages with Sky phones. These are a quick and inexpensive way to contact friends. They are perfect for when talking is difficult, when the music is too loud or when you want to keep something private. Sending a message costs as little as 5 pence but receiving one is free.

Sky Mobile also provides an information service for its mobile phone users. This service gives you recorded information, 24 hours a day, on sport (all the news, plus the day's football and rugby results), weather and finance. Just call 166 from your Sky phone. Calls cost 20 pence per minute at all times and are charged by the second. With Sky phone, you can also receive text messages to remind you of important dates. When you register with Sky Mobile, you should enter your diary dates, for example friends' birthdays, into a personal calendar. You will then receive a text message, with plenty of time to spare, as a reminder.

The answerphone service provided by Sky Mobile includes a facility for you to record a message. It's also possible to change your message whenever you like, so you can let people know exactly what you're doing. To record a message on your Sky answerphone, just dial 234 and follow the instructions.

When callers have left messages, it costs just 10 pence per minute to hear them. The cost of a call depends on the time of day that you make it. It is normally cheaper to make calls between 6.00 p.m. and 6.00 a.m. However, with Sky Mobile, it is possible to choose a different period. You have the choice of morning hours (7.00 am to 11.00 am); lunchtime (11.00 am to 3.00 pm); or afternoon (3.00 pm to 7.00 pm).

1	The Sky Mobile Phone Network is increasing in size.	T
2	You can contact more than 85% of people living in the UK on your Sky phone.	F
3	The minimum charge to read a text message sent to you is 5 pence.	F
