Dear Sir/Madam,

Application for part time shop assistant

I am writing to apply for this position which I saw advertised on your website. I am a secondary school student and I am looking for part time work. I am very interested in this position as I have always been enthusiastic about fashion.

I've always been a fan of your shop and how you keep it eco-friendly. I am a self-confident, organised and responsible person. I enjoy meeting new people and I follow the latest fashion designers and styles.

I can speak many languages like Arabic, English and French. In addition, I have three years experience of working in a clothes shop. My manager was very satisfied with my performance.

As noted in my attached C.V, I believe that my skills and personality are a very good fit for this position. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

Fatima Ali

Writing / Unit 6 (Persuasive Essay)

Example 1

Write an essay about the argument that it's better to wear school uniform. Present both sides of the argument and persuade your readers to agree with you. (SB p. 107)

School Uniforms

People say uniforms make school safer for students. Others say it has no positive effect on behavior. In my opinion, students shouldn't be required to wear school uniforms.

According to most teachers I've spoken to, uniforms cause additional problems in their classrooms. For instance, if a student comes to class without his uniform, the teacher must stop the class to address the problem.

Furthermore, you then have to work with students who don't wear uniforms. This takes the focus away from students' education.

Equally important is the fact that uniforms are very expensive. One of my uniforms costs as much as three other outfits.

For these reasons, I believe that students should not be required to wear school uniforms.

Writing / Unit 6 (Persuasive Essay)

Example 2

Write an essay about the argument that it's better to develop robots than spacecraft. Present both sides of the argument and persuade your readers to agree with you. (SB p. 107)

Developing Spacecraft vs. Developing Robots

It's extremely important to develop new technology wisely, so that everyone can benefit from it. Some people believe our technology plan should focus on building spacecraft. Others believe it should focus on building robots. Which is the better course of action?

For those who dream of exploring outer space, the development of high-tech spacecraft is essential. But just one spaceship costs billions of dollars more to build than even the most complex robot. Many specialised robots could be designed and built much more cheaply than spaceships, and they could be used for practical purposes right here on Earth.

Many of the people who focus on future space exploration describe solving key mysteries of space and perhaps even the origin of life in the universe. While this kind of knowledge is fascinating, there are no practical benefits from it for people on Earth right now. Robots will have new applications in the future, but even the robots we currently have benefit us in practical ways. For example, they can work in dangerous conditions, such as places with extreme temperatures. They can take apart bombs, build products or perform complex surgery – all useful things that benefit people right now.

To sum up, it's clearly better to give attention, time and money to the technological development of robots. They are less expensive to develop and more useful. Robots also benefit people in ways that are more practical than any benefit from a spacecraft.

Example 3

Write an essay about the argument that it's better to explore the ocean than outer space. Present both sides of the argument and persuade your readers to agree with you. (SB p. 107)

Exploring the ocean vs. Exploring the Outer Space

Some people believe that exploring the ocean is better than exploring the outer space.

For those who believe in exploring the outer space, it provides medicinal and technological advancements only. However, oceans can bring much more to our lives if we explore it. For example, it can provide food, fuel, medicine and even jobs.

Furthermore, one average Mars mission can cost 3 billion dollars, and yet a little outcome is provided. On the contrary, 3 billion dollars can be used to map the entire oceanic surfaces on earth. The results bring more benefits to humanity. To sum up, it's clearly better to give attention, money and effort to explore the ocean because it is less expensive and more useful. It also benefits people in many practical ways.

Writing / Unit 7 (Story)

Example 1

Choose a photo of a friend or a family member. Write the story your photo tells using reported speech and quotation to tell what people said. (SB p. 125)

Birthday Gift

It was a cold winter night when I took this photo. I was invited to my friend's house for dinner to celebrate her birthday. She had invited her closest friends too. She said she was so excited to see us.

We were chatting happily, suddenly, the bell rang. My friend ran to open the door. Once she opened the door, she saw a big box in front of the door, she said: "Wow, a surprise!" All the girls ran to see what happened.

Everyone was looking at the box eagerly to know what was in it, except for me. I was standing relaxed and smiling. My friend started opening the box and the girls were shouting: "Faster, faster!" Once the box was opened, everyone shouted: "AWESOME"! There was a lovely white cat looking outside the box, my friend looked at me and said: "It's you!" I smiled. My friend jumped excitedly and hugged me saying: "Thank you sweetie, I love you".

Everyone was happy and spent the whole night playing with the cat, it was an unforgettable night.

An Unforgettable Experience

It was a hot sunny day last summer when our family took this photo of our trip to the seaside. After walking for a while, we found a great spot on a beach.

"It's like paradise!" my dad said. My parents sat on the sand. Me and my sisters ran off happily to play and swim. Later that afternoon, we decided to sail in a small boat. Soon we realized we were trapped as the sea was too high. "Oh, my goodness!" Exclaimed my mother. "The tide is coming in!" We were so frightened.

Just then, we saw a small tourist boat not far away. We started shouting and waving our arms to attract the attention of the people on the boat. Luckily, the captain of the boat saw us and came over to pick us up.

When the boat arrived at the harbour, we all felt relieved. "I don't know what we'd have done if you hadn't arrived," said my father to the captain. "Thank you very much," we all said. We decided to be more careful next time!

Huda's Photo

It was a lovely summer evening. Me and my friend, Huda were invited to a dinner party at Sara's house. After we had our dinner, we went to the hall. We were chatting when suddenly a strong smell filled the room. "What is that?" I said.

I was worried and turned to my friend and said, "Is something burning, Sara?" Suddenly, the smoke alarm sounded, I ran out to check what had happened in the kitchen then I shouted "Oh no! The kitchen is on fire!" Alarmed, we all ran outside and called the police. In few minutes, the house was in flames. Luckily, the fire fighters arrived quickly and put out the fire.

Me, my friend and Sara were frightened and upset, but relieved that no one was hurt. It was a sad photo.

Writing / Unit 8 (News Report)

Example 1

Write a news report about an exploration or adventure. (SB p. 141)

On Top of the World!

Shaikh Mohammed Bin Hamad Al Khalifa successfully climbed Mount Everest in May 2021. His team has members of Bahraini people. They are the first Bahrainis to climb Mount Everest. They were also the first international team to reach almost 9 thousands meters of Mount Everest.

Mount Everest is the highest peak in the world. That is why climbing Everest is an ambition for many experienced climbers. But it requires a lot of experience and skill to get to the top safely. The weather of Everest is freezing cold. The warmest daytime temperature is only about -19°C . During the coldest month of the year, the average temperature is around -36°C . The weather on Everest can also change very suddenly, which makes it a dangerous environment for climbers.

The Bahraini team trained in the Himalayas in Nepal for two months before starting their adventure in Everest. They climbed several smaller mountains as part of their preparation. On the day they reached the highest point of Everest, the team held the Bahraini flag at the top to mark their achievement.

Example 2

Write a news report about an exploration or adventure. (SB p. 141)

At the End of the World!

Christopher Columbus was an Italian explorer. He was sailing to search for gold and spices in 1492. On the boat, there were many Italian workers with him. By chance, he discovered the United States of America.

During that time, sailing was very hard because people didn't have high-tech tools. Also, sailors didn't have medicine when they were sick. Moreover, they couldn't carry with them a lot of food. Sailors were not given enough money to live well.

Columbus sailed across the Atlantic Ocean for ten weeks. He wanted to find water route to Asia. By chance, he saw land. It was the United States of America. He never thought that he had found a new continent.
