Summary Making (60 Marks)

(1) Read the following passage, then do as required:

Imagine a world without technology, smartphones, computers, or internet, this means we couldn't instantly connect with friends or access endless information at our fingertips. Communication would rely on letters, in-person conversations, or landline phones, making everything slower and more personal. Life without technology would be simpler, allowing people to focus more on face-to-face communication. However, daily tasks would also be harder—no GPS for directions, no online banking, and limited access to healthcare advancements. Without devices, people might spend more time outdoors, enjoying nature and physical activities. A world without screens would increase productivity as there would be fewer distractions. Without technology, people would likely develop new hobbies and skills that don't rely on digital tools.

 In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the previous passage in an answer to the following question:

① What are the positive effects of not having technology?

(1) Read the following passage, then do as required:

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is a powerful technology that makes our daily lives better. AI has a great impact on education today. With AI students can learn in the way that suits them best. It also gives them suggestions on what to study. So, it's like having a custom-made test that focuses on what you need to learn. Now, there are no more boring tests that everyone must take. Another point, AI adds excitement and fun to learning, making it more like an adventure rather than a boring routine. Furthermore, AI is making our schools a more interesting and helpful place for everyone. AI has changed our world a lot, making things better and more advanced.

(1) Read the following passage, then do as required:

Getting ready for a job interview is like gearing up for an exciting journey. Start by learning about the company and the job you want. By doing that you will understand their values and requirements. Moreover, make your resume match the job's needs. So, it should emphasize your skills sought by the employer. Furthermore, practice talking about yourself. Most importantly, you should dress nicely and look at the interviewer in the eye and smile. These simple things can make a big difference and help you feel more confident. Remember, it's not just about what you say but how you say it. With a little preparation, you can shine and show that you're the right person for the job!

 In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the previous passage in an answer to the following question:

① How can you get ready for a job interview?
