“Village Life”

Done by: Hala Labeeb

H.L

The village has always been known for its beauty and peaceful life. It is a small community or a group of houses in a rural area where people live, socialize and work in. A village offers the people within it a healthy life and a clean atmosphere. In addition to that, everyone is well aware of the people living in their neighborhood and they stand by them in the time of need.

Life in the village is less stressful. People enjoy natural scenes, green fields, clean environment and quietness. There are no cars or modern means of transportation. Therefore, the air is clean and unpolluted. There are few schools because they are satisfied with their basic education and like to gain their experience from life. Villagers start their day early in the morning to perform their daily chores or activities. Furthermore, their main job is cultivation, as they grow different crops which are the main source of food. The village has a well-connected community where people live together in harmony and they have good relationships. People live a simple life without caring about luxurious and financial appearances.

However, many people consider it impossible to live in a village, but villages have been growing each year. We can develop the village by constructing more schools in order to accomplish better education facilities. Moreover, internet access should be provided there, as this will be a good opportunity for development and to gain a better communication system.

In conclusion, village life is comfortable without any noise caused by vehicles. Villagers have a healthy life due to the clean environment around them and their daily activities. Life would be more preferable in the village once they realize how great it would be to lead a simple and joyful life.
