Dinosaurs are fantastic animals that lived a long time ago. They came in different shapes and sizes. Some were as small as chickens, while others were as big as buildings! These amazing animals moved all over the earth millions of years ago. They lived in different places, from jungles to dry deserts.

Dinosaurs had special things that helped them live for a long time. Some had sharp teeth for eating meat, while others had flat teeth for cutting and eating plants. Some dinosaurs could run really fast, while others could swim in seas like fish!

Dinosaurs are not around anymore. We can see some models and pictures of them in science museums. Scientists believe dinosaurs died because of strong natural changes which happened on Earth, possibly huge volcanoes or strong snowstorms. These actions caused big changes to the environment, making it hard for them to live. Scientists still study dinosaurs to learn more about life in the past.
