

B. Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

- Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Ants are small insects. They are the hardest workers in the animal world. There are more than 12,000 known types of ants, living in almost every part of the world. Ants are social insects. They live in colonies. This means they live and work together in groups. A single group may contain thousands of ants, each with a special role. The queen is the largest and most important ant in the group. It lays eggs, so the group keeps growing. Worker ants are smaller. They do many tasks. They gather food, build and repair the nest. Fighter ants are very strong. They protect the group from enemies when it is in danger.

Ants communicate with one another using chemical sign like smell or perfume. These signs help other ants follow the way to food and avoid danger. For example, when a worker ant finds food, it leaves a special smell for the other ants to follow. Ants are very strong for their size. They are able to carry objects 50 times heavier than themselves. From forests and fields to deserts and cities, ants can live anywhere because of their teamwork and organisation. To conclude, ants are among the most successful creatures on Earth.
