sample of a narrative essay

One nice day, the sky was dark, and the stars were sparkling. It was the day I asked my mom for something that was somehow impossible to happen.

suddenly, we heard a sound that was coming from the hall. It was my mom's phone ringtone, someone was calling.

I answered the call and asked "Who is it? " with a happy and charming voice, my cousin replied "It's me, Maryam, how could you forget my voice! "

" Hi Maryam, has been so long since we lastly contacted " I replied.

a very long conversation went on between us, we spent many hours talking and discussing things. In the end, she asked me a very difficult task to do, which was to convince my mom for a visit to the village, where my grandparents and cousins live. now you might be thinking what's the difficulty in this? It's actually my mom's responsibility towards our home which makes her refuse to take us to the village. I tried many times but she always scolded me for that. however, as they say, " nothing is impossible ". the next day, my aunt called. she was telling us that Maryam is sick. after hearing that my mom got conscious of her and she planned to visit her. My sister and I were excited to meet her and also sad to hear that she was sick. the visit cost us too many expenses but who cares, after all finally we were going to visit our family after a long time. we packed our bags and moved towards the village. when we reached there, we met our grandparents and had a short nap. the next morning, we went to Maryam's house. when I saw her, we hugged each other tightly. then, she took me to her room and we started chatting, gossiping and laughing. I asked her to come to our grandparents house .so we could call our other cousins and plan for a night out. after two days, my other cousins arrived at our grandparent's house. at 12 o clock, everyone was sleeping when we all sat in the garden outside. it all started when we heard a weird voice. we all went together to check and it was a dark black dog trying to enter. we all were frightened, we shouted and escaped inside the house. after a few time, we felt bored and planned to watch a horror movie. we were enjoying the movie meanwhile all of a sudden Maryam reacted weirdly and talked to us in a frightening voice. we all felt scared. we decided to go to cancel the movie and go to sleep. My aunt was awake so we told her everything. then, she explained to us that Maryam has a different type of illness that makes her react weirdly, and in that situation, she could harm herself too.

that was the most frightening day in my life, my hands were shaking and I couldn't sleep at night because Maryam was sleeping next to me .she was moving and saying things in a scary voice. I regret the moment when I decided to do such adventurous activities.

The end !
