Dear Faisal,

I hope you are well and that you had a fantastic summer holiday. I returned from my holiday in Kenya yesterday. I had such a wonderful time for ten days. Have you ever visited Kenya?

The moment I arrived at the airport things started to go well. My plane left exactly on time and the flight was very smooth and comfortable. The taxi that took me to my hotel was so cheap that I thought the driver was joking.

I stayed in The Best Western Hotel on the beach. It was quiet and peaceful. The view from my window was fantastic. I could see the clear blue sea and the sandy beach. I went swimming every morning. The food in the hotel was so delicious.

It is a very interesting country and the people there are so friendly. I bought lots of fabulous souvenirs for my friends. Have you been to any interesting place this summer? Please write to me soon.

Best wishes,

Salman

Alexander Graham Bell became very famous because of the invention of the telephone.

He was born in 1847 in Scotland. He had two brothers. He received most of his early education from his mother who was unusually gifted painter and pianist, despite her deafness. Throughout his childhood, he spent short periods of time in traditional educational institutions including Edinburgh's Royal High School, which he left at the age of 15. He initially attended University of Edinburgh and then the University College, London, England, but did not receive a formal education comparable to his peers in Victorian Britain.

In 1870, after the death of two of his brothers, the Bell family moved to Canada for the sake of his health. Expanding on his father's work of teaching deaf people to communicate, he began working on transmitting telephonic messages. He is most famous for his pioneering work on the development of the telephone. He worked with Thomas Watson, his assistant, on the design of the first practical telephone. He died in 1922.

Dear Mustafa,

How are you? I am writing to tell you about our project. It is a report about spiders. Firstly, these animals are amazing. All spiders spin webs. That's because webs help spiders. Webs help spiders do three things.

First of all, webs help spiders hold eggs. Many spiders like to lay their eggs in their webs. The webs help keep the eggs together. Webs help spiders keep their eggs safe.

Secondly, webs help spiders hide. Most spiders are dark. They are brown, grey, or black. But spider webs are light. They are white and cloudy. When spiders hide in their webs, they are harder to be seen.

The third reason is that webs help spiders catch food. Spider webs are sticky. When a bug flies into the web, it gets stuck. It tries to get out. But it can't. It is trapped! Spiders can tell that the bug is trapped. That's because spiders feel the web move. And the spider is hungry. The spider goes to get the bug.

As you can see, without webs, spiders would not be able to live like they do. Spiders need their webs to survive!

I am so glad because I have discovered some new information about spiders. How about you? What is your report about?

My warm regards,

Mohammed

Deserts are rich habitats with animals and plants that have adapted to the harsh conditions there. More than one billion people live in desert regions.

Deserts cover more than one fifth of the Earth's land, and they are found on every continent. A place that receives less than (25 centimeters) of rain per year is considered a desert.

deserts as dry and hot, there are cold deserts as well. The largest hot desert in the world, northern Africa's Sahara, reaches temperatures of up to (50 degrees Celsius) during the day. But some deserts are always cold, like the Gobi desert in Asia and the desert on the continent of Antarctica. Others are mountainous. Only about 10 percent of deserts are covered by sand dunes.

Desert animals have adapted ways to help them keep cool and use less water. Camels, for example, can go for days without food and water

Desert plants may have to go without fresh water for years at a time. Some plants have adapted to the dry weather by growing long roots that take water from deep underground. Many desert plants can live to be hundreds of years old.

Dear Mohammed,

How are you? Thank you for your last email. I hope this information will help you with your project about famous people.

I've just finished learning about a famous person called Jane Goodall. She was born in London in 1934. She is an expert on chimpanzees. Her father was a businessman and her mother was a writer.

Growing up, Jane loved animals. She dreamt of going to Africa someday in order to see some of her favourite animals in the wild. She liked chimpanzees more than any other animals. In England, she got her first toy during her childhood. It was a toy of chimpanzee which she loved to play with.

Jane spent her late teens and early twenties saving money to go to Africa. When she was twenty-three, Jane finally had enough money to visit a friend who lived on a farm in Kenya. She went there in 1957. There she started to observe the life of chimpanzees very closely.

Jane Goodall has studied the way chimpanzees live for the past 25 years. She has received many awards for her work to help people understand the importance of wildlife conservation.

Best wishes,

Khalid

Good morning my teacher.

Good morning, grade seven students.

Today, I am very happy to give my presentation, about a famous person called Ibn Battuta.

His full name is Abu Abdullah Mohammed Ibn Battuta. Ibn Battuta was born in Morocco in 1304. He is a great Arab traveller. He travelled to different places around Asia, Africa and Europe. He became famous because he spent his life in travelling to discover places around the world. He was called (Al Rahal).

He travelled for about thirty years. He started his first trip in 1325. He used animals to travel between countries. Also, he used a ship to travel to other places. He sailed to Muscat and Dhofar. Ibn Battuta wrote famous books about his journeys around the world. Ibn Battuta died in 1368 in Morocco.

That's all for my short presentation about Ibn Battuta. You can find more information about him in the internet.
