Dear Omar,

I hope you are doing well. I am writing this email to tell you about my first day as a backpacker in this huge capital city. I arrived at the railway station early this morning. Carrying my heavy luggage was a bit difficult, but I finally found a nice place for accommodation in a quiet neighbourhood. After leaving my bags, I walked on the wide pavement to explore the area. I saw many people waiting at the traffic lights near the busy crossroads. I used a map from the tourist information centre to find my way. The city is very organized, and there are many road signs to help people. I even saw a big red fire engine rushing down the street! I am planning to visit the local museum tomorrow. It is much better than staying at home.

Please tell me about your week. I miss our coffee time.

Best wishes,

Ahmed

Dear Khalid,

I wanted to share my experience of moving around the city. Yesterday, I had to take a coach to visit the countryside. I left my accommodation early, but the streets were already full of vehicles. I saw a long lorry delivering goods and many people walking on the pavement.

While I was waiting at the crossroads, the traffic lights turned red for a long time. I noticed a small police station on the corner, and the officers were very helpful. They were directing a fire engine that was trying to pass through the traffic jam. I was worried about being late, so I asked a local person for directions. He pointed to a large road sign that showed the way to the railway station. I managed to reach there just five minutes before the coach departed. It was a very stressful morning!

Write back and tell me about your news.

Best wishes, Sami

Dear Sarah,

You won't believe what happened to me in the capital city yesterday. After I got out of the taxi, I realized I had left my small piece of luggage in the back seat! I was so worried because my passport was inside. I immediately went to the nearest police station to report it.

The police officer told me to check the tourist information centre as well.

I walked past a beautiful statue and a historic monument, but I was too sad to enjoy them. I spent two hours looking for the taxi driver.

Finally, I found him parked near a large fountain in the city centre. He was waiting for me! I was so happy that I gave him a big tip. The people in this neighbourhood are truly honest and kind.

I am now back at my accommodation resting.

See you soon!

Best wishes,

Mona

Dear John,

I am writing to tell you about my new job as a tour guide. Every morning, I start my day at the tourist information centre. I meet a new group of tourists and we start our walking tour. We usually walk along the pavement to see the famous clock tower.

The most difficult part is navigating the roundabout when it is crowded with coaches and big lorries. I have to make sure everyone stays together and follows the road signs. Today, we had a small problem at the crossroads because the traffic lights were not working. We had to wait for a fire engine to pass safely. Despite the noise and the traffic jam, the tourists really enjoyed seeing the old monuments. It is a tiring job, but I love meeting people from all over the world. I hope to see you during the summer.

Best wishes,

Faisal

Dear Mona,

How are you? I wanted to share some exciting news about my family members. My brother has always been creative since he was born. When he started to grow up, he spent all his time drawing. Now, he is a famous graphic designer at a big media company. He even works with a game designer to create characters for new video games. It is amazing to see his work on TV!

My sister is also very successful. She is an architect who designs beautiful modern houses. She had to leave the house recently to be closer to her new project in the north. On the other hand, my cousin is a novelist. She spends her days writing stories and has already published three books. She says she wants to travel abroad next year to find new ideas for her stories. We are all very proud of each other. My father, who was a dentist, decided to retire last month, so now he has more time to spend with us.

I hope everything is going well with you too.

Best wishes,

Sara

Dear Khalid,

I am writing to share my experience in my new field of work. After I finished my training, I managed to find a job as an electric vehicle technician. It is a very modern and interesting job because cars are changing so fast.

My boss is a brilliant inventor who created a new type of battery that lasts for a very long time. We work in a very large garage with many other experts. I work with a journalist who is writing a report about the future of transport in our country. He asks many questions every day!

I am also trying to save money because I want to go to university next year to study more about engineering. I want to get a degree so I can become a lead engineer. My brother is also busy; he is a professional footballer, so he is always training at the club. We don't see him very often because he has many matches. I hope you are enjoying your time in your new job as a hairdresser.

Best wishes,

Faisal

Dear Omar,

I am writing to you from a beautiful island! I decided to travel abroad this summer to explore new places. I met a very brave man here who works as a diver. His job is to explore the deep sea and takes photos of rare fish.

He told me that he was born in a small village by the ocean, so he loved water since he was a child. It is a very dangerous, but exciting job.

I also met a journalist who is traveling around the world to write about different cultures.

She told me that she had to learn a new language every time because she needed to communicate with people. She is very smart! I am staying here for two weeks, and then I have to go back home to find a job. I want to be a manager in a travel agency so I can help people plan their holidays.

I really love traveling because it teaches me many things about life.

I hope you are having a good time at home. Please write back soon.

Best wishes,

Mohammed

Dear Laila,

I hope you are doing well. I arrived home from the International Book Fair yesterday. I stayed there for the whole day because there was so much to see. The moment I arrived, things started to go well. I found a famous biography about a scientist who changed the world. It was very inspiring to read about his life. I also bought a science fiction book for my cousin who loves stories about space and the future.

While walking around, I saw a large stage where they were performing a short drama from a famous play. The actors were great! I also attended a small workshop where a lady was reading beautiful poetry. It was very relaxing. I spent a lot of money because I also bought an adventure story about a group of friends exploring a jungle. The food at the fair was so delicious and the view from the window was fantastic. I bought lots of fabulous souvenirs for my friends at the gift shop. Have you been to any interesting event this summer?.

Best wishes,

Maha

Dear Sarah,

I hope you are well and had a fantastic summer holiday. Yesterday was a very rainy day, so I stayed in my hotel room. The view from my window was fantastic because I could see the mountains. I decided to spend my time reading a mystery story that I bought at the airport. It was so interesting that I finished it in three hours! After that, I looked through a recipe book to see what I want to cook when I go back home.

In the afternoon, I read a graphic novel that my friend gave me.

The drawings were very detailed and fun. I also started reading a science fiction story about a city under the sea. It is a very interesting book. The food in the hotel was so delicious, so I didn't feel hungry at all. I have bought lots of fabulous souvenirs for my friends from the local market.

Have you been to any interesting place this summer?.

Please write to me soon. I am coming back tomorrow.

Best wishes,

Dear John,

I hope you are well. I joined a new book club in my city yesterday. The club members and I met in a small café that was quiet and peaceful. We had such a wonderful time for two hours discussing different books. We talked about a detective story where the hero is a very clever cat.

Everyone thought it was a funny idea!

I also showed them a fantasy story that I am writing myself. They gave me great advice.

One of the members brought a classic novel that was very old. The pages were yellow! We also discussed a biography of a famous explorer. It is a very interesting topic. The food in the cafe was so delicious, especially the chocolate cake. The people in the club are so friendly and kind. I bought some fabulous notebooks for my friends so they can start writing too.

Have you been to any interesting club this summer?

Please write to me soon.
