Dear Aunt Julia,

I have so much to tell you, I don't know where to begin! Remember last summer when I told you that I was planning to enter the Teen Say Magazine essay competition. Well, I entered, and my essay, "Improving Community Safety," won! The prize was a weekend trip to New York City, with a visit to the Teen Say offices to see how they publish the magazine each month. Three of us were chosen to go for the trip: two other winners, and me.

My mom took me to the airport for the flight to New York, and I have to say I was nervous! I've flown before, but never without my parents. But when we got to the airport and met the other people in our group, I relaxed. The group leader, Mrs. Suzan, was friendly and easy to talk to. When we arrived at the Teen Say offices, she took us on a tour. By the time the tour was over, Mrs. Suzan noticed that we were getting tired. She took us to her favourite Italian restaurant.

When I see you at Mom's birthday party next week, I will tell you all about the sightseeing we are going to do tomorrow. I enclosed a copy of my essay with this letter. So far, it has been a great trip.

Love,

Yoshiko

Every country celebrates special days differently in which people are excited and have fun. People in India celebrates a lot. One of the festivals they have is the Festival of lights which takes place every year. This festival lasts for five days and is held at the end of October. Preparation for the festival begins weeks before the event. People clean their homes and paint wonderful designs on the walls and floors. They also buy new clothes and jewellery to wear during the festival and women make delicious sweets which are specially known in India. During the five days of the festival, every home and temple is decorated inside and outside with colourful candles and lovely lamps. These lamps are made of clay. At night, the whole place glitters with thousands of tiny lights. Excited children set off firecrackers. It is a deeply moving festival. I saw this festival in 2006, but I still remember those amazing days.

Dear Khalid,

Thank you a lot for your letter. It is nice to hear from you. I'm sorry I didn't respond to your last letter because I was busy preparing for my trip.

As you know, I've visited many unusual places. This year I spent my holiday in a cold place. It was the North Pole! I'm so excited to tell you about my wonderful trip!

The people I travelled with were so friendly. They visited that place three times before.

They knew everywhere there and they were very helpful. One day, I got a high fever because of the cold weather. A man in the team called "Ali" stayed with me all night and gave me a traditional medicine to reduce my temperature and soon I felt better. They shared their knowledge and experience with me. They taught me how to set up my tent.

It was very amazing. One night, we were afraid because we heard a roar of a polar bear which was wandering around our tents looking for food. After that, we moved farther north where we stayed there for three days. I enjoyed my holiday a lot.

I hope you had a wonderful holiday. Write back soon.

Best wishes,

Omar

Good morning listeners, Today's programme is about Tawfiq Al-Hakim, a famous Egyptian writer.

Tawfiq Al-Hakim was born on the 9th of October 1898 to a wealthy Egyptian family in Alexandria, Egypt. From an early age, he showed a love for literature. When he was in secondary school, he visited theatres to see plays by famous actors and began writing short plays. He used different types of writing such as short stories, essays, and even poems for national songs.

He studied law at Cairo University, but later he could not get a government job. So, his father encouraged him to travel to Paris in 1925 to study French. He spent three years in Paris reading plays and going to the theatre.

After that, he returned to Egypt and started writing his famous plays. His first play, which was called "Return of the Spirit", was published in 1928. Five years later, he published a book called "People of the Cave", which was based on a story from the Holy Quran. In 1973, he wrote "Memories of a Country Prosecutor", which described the difficult life of Egyptians.

He started his government service in 1928. Between 1939 and 1943, he worked for the Ministry of Social Affairs. Then, he moved to the Ministry of Education. In 1951, he became the director of the National Library. Then, he retired to have more time for writing. Tawfiq Al-Hakim died in Cairo on the 26th of July 1987.

Dear Nadia,

Thanks for your last email. It was wonderful to hear that you like your new school. Do you remember when I told you that my parents and I would be moving to the United States? Well, I'm very pleased to send you this email from New York where we arrived last week.

My parents, who are both computer scientists, are now working with a computer company in New York City for a one-year contract. I'm really excited to live a new experience. It is a great adventure for all of us, and I think life in New York is interesting, fun and a little bit strange. I'm a student at Hamilton Private High School. I have studied English for ten years, so language is not a problem. I also speak Spanish and Guarani, which is the language of most people in my home country Paraguay. My parents and I will visit the historical sites of the city and learn about the history of the United States. My biggest pleasure is 'going to the Ocean'. As you know, Paraguay doesn't have a sea and I have only seen the ocean once before coming to New York. Before we go back to Paraguay next summer, we will visit Pittsburgh and Chicago.

That's all for now. Take care and let me hear from you soon.

Your friend,

Felicia

Walt Disney is a well-known name all over the world. He was the famous animator who created characters such as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. Disney's films have entertained millions of people over the years and are still popular today.

Walter Disney was born in Chicago on December 5th, 1901. He was one of five children. Many of his first drawing as a child were of farm animals. In 1920 he started making cartoon advertisements. Disney's dream was to make films, so in 1923 he decided to go to Hollywood. Walt and his brother Roy set up their own small company.

Disney got married to Lillian Bounds on July 13th, 1925. They had two daughters. In 1928, he created Mickey Mouse, his most famous cartoon character. That was the start of Disney's amazing success. He won many awards for his films, which include Snow White and Pinocchio. His greatest creation, however, was Disneyland, which opened in 1955 in California.

Walt Disney died at the age of 65 on December 15th, 1966. Sadly, he didn't live to see the opening of the world-famous Disney World in Florida in 1971.
