Grade 10- End of term Revision

Reading comprehension:

- 1) My name is Mike, and I was born in a very poor neighborhood in Los Angeles. When I was little, my mother took care of my brother and me, because my father died before I came to this world, and none of our relatives was too interested in helping mum take care of us. My mother had to work two jobs that didn't pay much. She had to work very hard so that we could have food, clothes, and to provide for us a place to live in. She was great; we loved her and appreciated her efforts.
- 2) Every day, she usually arrives home very late, and she was exhausted. Still, she always cooked nice meals for us, played with us, and made sure that we did our homework. She always insisted on how important it was to get a good education. She couldn't finish school due to money issues. "I couldn't finish school, and that's why I must work so hard now, and I earn so little money," she often said.
- 3) Children were very violent in my neighborhood; you needed to be violent if you wanted to survive. There were lots of crimes such as theft, murder and burglary. It wasn't easy to be a good student for any child who lived in our neighborhood. The other children hated you if you got good grades, so I wasn't very popular. The only positive thing about living in that place is that you needed to be very clever to survive, and that helped me later in life.
- 4) Finally, my brother and I finished high school and we went to university. Because I was a very good basketball player, my sports association paid for my university degree. On the day of my graduation, my mother was in tears. And she was in tears again the day I showed her our new apartment, away from the neighborhood. Do you know how difficult it is to get out of a poor neighborhood? It's very hard, but I did it, and it was thanks to my mum. Now she doesn't have to work two jobs anymore, and I take care of her.

1 Advancements in technology and social progress have significantly transformed our daily lives into significant convenience. From communication to transportation and household chores, this article explores the ways in which life has become easier, enhancing our overall quality of life.

2 Modern technologies have revolutionised communication, making it faster, more efficient, and accessible. With the rise of smartphones and social media platforms, staying connected with loved ones and colleagues is just a few taps away. Video calls, instant messaging, and email have eliminated geographical barriers, facilitating seamless communication across the globe.

3 Transportation has significantly evolved, making commuting and travel more convenient than ever before. In fact, the widespread availability of automobiles improved public transportation networks, and the emergence of ride-sharing services have simplified our daily commutes. In addition, air travel has become more accessible, with affordable fares and efficient check-in processes, allowing us to explore distant destinations with ease.

4 Technological advancements have transformed our homes into smart, automated spaces. From advanced vacuum cleaners and smart appliances to voice-controlled devices, our daily chores and routines have become more streamlined. Home automation systems enable us to control lighting, temperature, and security, enhancing comfort and convenience.

5 The internet has revolutionized the way we access information and services. Online platforms offer thousands of resources, from e-learning platforms for education to online shopping for convenience. We can now access news, research, and entertainment instantaneously, eliminating the need for physical media and expanding our knowledge at our fingertips.

6 Life in the modern age has undoubtedly become easier, thanks to advancements in technology and societal progress. The ease of communication, convenience in transportation and travel, automation in our homes, and access to information and services have simplified our daily routines and enhanced our overall well-being. Embracing these conveniences allows us to maximize our time, productivity, and enjoyment of life.
