Writing

You purchased a blender from an electronic shop, and you noticed that it doesn't work well.

Write an a letter of complaint to the manager stating your problems and asking for specific actions to be taken.

Sample writing

Dear Manager,

I am writing to complain about a blender that I purchased from your electronic shop last week. Unfortunately, I have experienced several problems with the product since the first day of use.

First, the blender does not blend food properly even when used at the highest speed. In addition, it makes a very loud noise and stops working after a few minutes. I also noticed a burning smell coming from the motor, which makes me worried about its safety.

I bought this blender because I trusted the quality of products sold in your shop, so I am very disappointed with this experience.

I would appreciate it if you could replace the blender with a new one or give me a full refund as soon as possible. I have attached a copy of the receipt and warranty card for reference.

I look forward to your prompt response and a satisfactory solution.

Yours faithfully,

[Your Name]

Writing

The chart below shows how frequently people in the USA ate in fast food restaurants between 2003 and 2013.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

Write at least 150 words.

Frequency of eating at fast food restaurants among people in the USA (2003–2013)

Sample chart report

The bar chart illustrates how often people in the USA ate at fast food restaurants in 2003, 2006, and 2013.

Overall, the majority of Americans ate fast food either once a week or once or twice a month during the three years shown. In contrast, eating fast food every day or never eating it was the least common behavior throughout the period.

In 2003, around 31% of people ate fast food once a week, while 30% visited restaurants once or twice a month. The figures for these two categories changed slightly in 2006, when the percentage of weekly customers increased to about 33%, making it the highest figure on the chart. However, by 2013, the proportion of people eating fast food once a week fell to approximately 28%, whereas the percentage of those eating it once or twice a month rose to around 33%, becoming the most common frequency. The proportion of people eating fast food several times a week was moderate, at about 17% in 2003, rising to 20% in 2006 before falling slightly to 16% in 2013. Meanwhile, those who ate fast food only a few times a year accounted for roughly 13% in 2003 and 15% in both 2006 and 2013.

Finally, only a very small percentage of people ate fast food every day or never ate it, with figures remaining close to 3–5% in all three years.

Topic

Write a persuasive essay in which you show “Why everyone should read books”

Books are one of the greatest inventions in human history. They entertain us, teach us valuable lessons, and help us understand the world better. Although many people today spend most of their time on phones and social media, reading books is still extremely important. Everyone should read books because they improve knowledge, develop imagination, and reduce stress.

First of all, books increase our knowledge and help us learn new things. Through reading, people can discover information about science, history, culture, and many other subjects. Books also improve vocabulary and language skills, which can help students succeed in school and adults perform better at work. A person who reads regularly usually becomes more educated and confident.

Secondly, reading books develops creativity and imagination. When people read stories, they imagine the characters, places, and events in their minds. This helps the brain become more active and creative. Unlike movies, books encourage readers to create their own pictures and ideas. As a result, reading strengthens thinking skills and imagination.

In addition, books can reduce stress and improve mental health. Reading allows people to relax and escape from daily problems for a short time. Many people feel calmer and happier after spending time with a good book. Reading before sleep can also help improve concentration and sleep quality.

In conclusion, books are not only a source of entertainment but also a powerful tool for learning and personal growth. They increase knowledge, improve imagination, and help people relax. For these reasons, everyone should make reading a regular habit in their lives.

Write an essay about the Advantages of Air Travelling.

Air travelling has become one of the most popular means of transportation in the modern world. Millions of people travel by plane every day for business, education, tourism, and other purposes. Although it can sometimes be expensive, air travel offers many important advantages that make it the preferred choice for many people.

One major advantage of air travelling is speed. Airplanes can carry passengers over long distances in a very short time. For example, a journey that may take several days by car or ship can be completed within a few hours by plane. This saves time and allows people to travel quickly for work, emergencies, or vacations.

Another benefit is comfort and convenience. Modern airplanes provide comfortable seats, entertainment systems, meals, and other services that make journeys more enjoyable. Airports also offer many facilities such as restaurants, shops, and waiting areas to help travelers feel relaxed during their trips.

Air travelling also connects countries and cultures. It allows people to visit different places around the world easily and learn about new traditions, languages, and lifestyles. In addition, air travel supports tourism and international business, which helps the global economy grow.

Furthermore, flying is considered one of the safest forms of transportation because airlines follow strict safety rules and use advanced technology to protect passengers.

In conclusion, air travelling has many advantages, including speed, comfort, safety, and the ability to connect people worldwide. For these reasons, it remains an essential and valuable form of transportation in today's world.
