Tom put some stones and the plants in it and filled it with water. He asked his dad to buy him some goldfish. When the baby goldfish arrived, Tom was surprised to see that the fish were black, but his mother told him that baby goldfish are always black. They change color as they get bigger. Today, Tom reads more books about the life of fish. He also likes visiting pet shops to see the fish and ask the shopkeepers about the ways they used to take care of them.
