PROTECT DOLPHINS

1. Dolphins are amazing animals that live in the sea. They are intelligent, friendly, and social. Dolphins often live in groups called pods. We should care about dolphins because they are an important part of marine life.

2. Dolphins have many special skills. They can swim fast and jump high out of the water. They use sounds to find food and understand what is around them. Dolphins usually eat fish and other small sea animals. Their interesting abilities make them special animals that deserve our protection.

3. Dolphins are also helpful to scientists. Scientists study dolphins to learn more about the sea and animal communication. They communicate with each other using different sounds. Dolphins can teach us about life under the water. We should respect these intelligent animals and give them a safe place to live.

4. Sadly, dolphins face many dangers. Plastic waste, pollution, and fishing activities can hurt dolphins and their homes. People should protect dolphins by keeping the oceans clean and reducing plastic waste. We can also avoid throwing rubbish into the sea.
