(IV) READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following e-mail, then answer the questions that follows:

1. “Mobile is a lot closer to TV than it is to desktop”. In recent years, the world has witnessed a booming number of mobile phones. They are dramatically changing the way people contact to each other. It is apparent that mobile phones have had a profound influence on personal lives. However, not all the effects are positive.
2. To begin with, using mobile phones is one of popular methods for people to communicate, relax and do business. By using call or video phone, text message, we can keep in touch together despite a long distance. Secondly, these days, with the significant development of cell phones, they enable users to entertain such as surfing the internet, sending photos or downloading videos and games. According to research, the number of people accessing the web through mobile phones is now accounting for well over 15% of worldwide internet usage. Furthermore, some Office applications for mobile phones, for example, Microsoft Office are helping employees do their business more effectively.
3. It is true that people are now getting many advantages from mobile phones, these communication technologies also have several negative impacts. Firstly, using cell phones too much will probably be harmful for human's health as it can increase the risk of brain cancer. Some scientific research prove that mobile phones have serious side effects on our central nervous system particularly on the brain. In addition, children are spending a lot of their free time on using mobiles with the purpose of chatting or playing games, and this can affect negatively on their studies. Moreover, lacking face-to-face communication is also the result of using mobiles. Instead of going out or meeting people, many people prefer to stay at home and use their cell phones to connect to others.
4. To sum up, mobile phones have both advantages and disadvantages to our society. They make the people's lives and works become more convenient. If we want to avoid these problems, each person should manage the time of using mobiles reasonably. In my opinion, people should use mobile phones wisely to avoid the negative impacts on their health.

1. What is the text Mainly about?

- A. Mobile phones are not useful.
- B. Mobile phones have no bad effects.
- C. People should avoid using mobile phones.
- D. People should balance their use of mobile phones

2. What does the underlined word popular in paragraph 2 mean?

- A. Famous
- B. Unusual
- C. Uncommon
- D. Abnormal

3. According to paragraph 3, what are the negative impacts of mobile phones?

4. What is the writer's opinion about using mobile phones?
