Part C – Comprehension Passage (rewritten, same length)

Saudi Arabia is a country with an atmosphere of devotion, culture, and loyalty to tradition. Its society offers comfort and shelter to millions of pilgrims who visit the Two Holy Mosques each year. Expanded facilities have welcomed visitors, ensuring they are cared for. The people of the Kingdom are regarded as its greatest asset, with ambition and talent that can be cultivated and nurtured through education and healthcare. Cultural initiatives such as museums, galleries, and libraries create opportunities for learning and entertainment. Housing projects promise modern furniture and safe communities, while schools develop the potential of graduates to meet job market needs. The economy shows promise, with investors bringing megabucks into a diversified environment. The Kingdom's location, linking three continents, makes it a global trading hub. Streamlined services and privatization of state-owned firms will attract partners. Saudi Arabia aims to be a lodge for talent, creativity, and enterprise, offering opportunities that may cost "an arm and a leg" but yield great rewards.
