Friendly Cities

Some people say that people who live in cities are not friendly. They think that people who live in cities are always in a hurry and that they are too busy to talk to other people. This may be true. In cities that have more crime, people are sometimes afraid to be friendly to strangers. They think it is safer not to talk to people that they don't know.

A recent study looked at cities around the world to find out which city was the friendliest. The researchers tried to find out where people were the most helpful to other people. To find out, they pretended to have problems. For example, they dropped a pen while standing on the street and waited for someone else to pick it up. They also pretended to have an injury while walking down the street to see if someone would help them.

These researchers decided that the friendliest city in the world was the city of Rio de Janeiro in Brazil. Two other cities that they thought were friendly were San Jose, Costa Rica, and Madrid, Spain. The researchers found that, in general, smaller, quieter cities were friendlier than busy, crowded cities.

1. The researchers wanted to find out if people are friendlier in the country in cities. ()
