Warm Up

SG3 U8
Page 86

What do you know about the driving age in your country and other countries?

18 years old.

Do you think this is a good age and why?

Yes, it is.
18-year-olds are more likely to make smart decisions without giving in to peer pressure than 16-year-olds.

the driving age in your country and other countries?

Only 61% of high school students wear seat belts when riding with someone else.

Teens are more likely than older drivers to speed.

About 93% of teen drivers play loud, distracting music when behind the wheel.

Debate on raising the driving age to 18 years.

For and Against

Where do you stand?

👍 Imagine yourself as a 16 years old. You've just got your driver's license and are going to go with your friends to celebrate. your attention isn't on the road, and you crash into another vehicle. Two of your friends die on scene, and your other friend is seriously injured

👍 Sixteen years old drivers are three times more likely to crash than seventeen years old.

👍 Raising the driving age to eighteen would make it so that there would be more time to teach teens how to drive.

👍 Changing the driving age to eighteen is a good idea because fewer deaths and accidents would result.

👍 One final reason to raise the driving age is because sixteen and seventeen years old have little experience driving. It's been proven over and over that the longer you learn and practice something, the better you'll be.

👍 raising the driving age can reduce number of accident

👍 less injuries

👍 fewer cars would be on the road.

👍 Less air pollution and lower levels of noise pollution

👎 If the teens can't drive themselves, the responsibility for transportation often falls to their parents.

👎 The best way to learn how to do something is to do it. The argument here is that the higher crash rates for 16- and 17-year-olds may just be because they are new to driving and lack experience. Delaying the start of driving may just delay that learning and shift the crash rates more toward the 18- and 19-year-olds.

👎 Driving skills may not improve too much if teens are only little bit older.

👎 Raising driving age can make family life more difficult.

👎 People learn better at an early age.

👎 Increasing driving age may take away freedom from young people.

👎 Modern technology may help to protect young drivers.

Read the title Is Right, Right?
The first right refers to direction;

the second right means correct.

The title asks if driving on the right is better or worse than driving on the left.

The writer answers the question in the title.
(It doesn't matter.
Just drive carefully.)

Why must you drive on the right side of the road in some countries and on the left side of the road in other countries? Investigate the question, and you find a lot of confusion on right versus left. About a quarter of the world drives on the left, and most of those countries used to be British colonies. In England people drive on the left, but on escalators they stand on the right, so that people who are in a hurry can go up on the left. In Japan, they drive on the left, too, but people usually stand on the left on escalators.

There are different explanations for the use of right versus left. Some people believe that it is a natural tendency to walk or drive on the right. This is because most people are right-handed.

We can look back in history for reasons people move on the right or left of the road. Some people say that in Europe hundreds of years ago, people rode their horses on the left. This way, their sword was between them and anyone who was coming toward them in the opposite direction. They were ready to pull out their sword and fight to defend themselves with their right arm. There is also evidence that ancient Greek, Egyptian, and Roman troops used to march on the left side. And in Rome, they made it a law in the 1300s. So when and why did the right side become popular?

One idea is that in the 1700s, people in France and in the United States started to use wagons with several pairs of horses and to drive on the right side of the road. It was easier for the drivers to sit on the left and control the horses with a whip in the right hand, and it was safer if other vehicles passed on the left so the drivers could see the distance between vehicles. Some people say that in England, people always drove on the left, and in France, people always drove on the right.

In any case, Napoleon, a ruler of France, ordered people to drive on the right side in the early 1800s. France conquered many countries at that time, and so these countries drove on the right. But France didn't conquer England, so England kept its custom of driving on the left.

In the twentieth century, there was a trend to the right. Many cars were made in the United States, and they were made for driving on the right side of the road. As recently as 1967, Sweden changed its laws. Now people in Sweden must drive on the right.

So right or left? Just follow the customs of the country where you are—and be sure to drive carefully on that side!

- A. What is the legal driving age in your country? In other countries? Read about getting a driver's license in Canada. In groups, discuss whether you think this is a good system.

In most provinces of Canada, the legal age to start driving an automobile is 16. However, new drivers must successfully complete several stages before they get a full license.

New drivers must first pass a written exam to ensure that they understand the rules of the road. Then they are issued a Learner's License. They are able to drive only under the supervision of an adult for one year, and they must place an L sign on the back of the car.

When young drivers are ready, they must pass a road test with an examiner. Then they are issued a Novice License. They are able to drive on their own or with one passenger in the car, and they must display an N sign on the back of the car. After two years of safe driving as a novice, they must pass another road test to get a full license.

B. Complete the sentences with words from the box. Find the meaning of any new words.

reflexes immature responsible accident distracted impulses rage attention

1. Due to the fact that many adolescents are unable to control their emotions and impulses, they are prone to road rage.
2. Teenagers are easily distracted by their cell phone or by other people in the car. As a result, they don't pay careful attention to the road.
3. Teenagers are still mentally young and immature. For this reason, they are not responsible drivers.
4. Since adolescents don't have much experience behind the wheel, they don't have the reflexes to react quickly. Consequently, they are more likely to cause an accident than an experienced driver.

Review the phrases that express cause or reason.

☺ because, since, and as are synonyms. They are subordinate conjunctions which join a subordinate (dependent) clause to a main (independent) clause.

☺ A subordinate clause depends on the main clause and cannot exist alone.

Example:

☺ Since they are immature, most teenagers are not responsible drivers.

☺ As they are easily distracted, teenagers don't pay attention to the road.

☺ He caused the accident because he didn't stop at the intersection

Writing Corner

1. Use phrases to express cause/reason: because (of), since, as, and due to.

2. Use phrases to express result: for this reason, as a result, and consequently.

☺ due to and because of also express cause and reason.

☺ Due to usually follows a noun and a form of the verb be. Because of follows other verbs and adjectives.

☺ Choose due to or because of.

Read these sentences and complete them with due to or because of.

The accident was _____ icy road conditions.

The car crashed _____ icy road conditions.

He failed _____ his poor study habits.

His failure was _____ poor study habits. ()

Review the phrases that express result or effect.

☺ they come at the front of a sentence and are followed by a comma.

For example:

Most teenagers are immature. For this reason, they are not responsible drivers.

Teenagers are easily distracted. Consequently, they don't pay attention to the road.

He didn't stop at the intersection. As a result, he caused the accident.

The roads were icy. For this reason, the car crashed.

He has poor study habits. As a result, he failed.

1. Use phrases to express cause/reason: because (of), since, as, and due to.
2. Use phrases to express result: for this reason, as a result, and consequently.

Write notes about the reasons and results in the chart.

C. Complete the chart with notes about why the legal driving age should be over 16.

Reasons	Results
Most teens are immature	They are not responsible drivers
Teens are easily distracted	They don't pay attention to the road
Many adolescents are unable to control Their emotions	They are prone to road rage
Adolescents don't have much experience	Don't have the reflexes to react quickly

العامية

Driving Age

- D. Write an essay to argue why the driving age in some countries should be raised to 18 or older. Use your notes from the chart and ideas from this unit.

What is the legal driving age in your country?
What is the main cause of road accidents?
Who are more likely to engage in road rage?
Why are teenagers not responsible drivers?

Why the Driving Age Should Be Raised

There is an argument that the legal driving age which is 16 years old in some countries, is too low and this causes an unacceptably high level of traffic accidents. Raising the driving age, would ensure young drivers are more experienced and less prone to road rage, which can put other road users at risk. Most teenagers are immature. For this reason, they are not responsible drivers.

Things a Good Driving Instructor Should/Shouldn't Do
should be patient should be calm shouldn't talk on the phone

Things a Good Driving Instructor Must/Must Not Do must know the traffic laws mustn't break the law

Now write a paragraph that describes a good driving instructor.

What Makes a Good Driving Instructor?

A driving instructor is an important job. A good driving instructor should be calm and should be patient with the driving student. Also, a good driving instructor shouldn't talk on a cell phone in the car. That is not a good example for the student. A good driving instructor must know the driving laws and mustn't break those laws.

Culture Note

The minimum driving age in most countries worldwide is 18. In Canada, the United States, El Salvador, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Estonia, France, Australia, and New Zealand the minimum driving age ranges from 14 to 16 years. The majority of these countries, however, require parental supervision prior to 18 years of age. Gibraltar has the highest minimum driving age at 19 years.
