(The passenger does not have to be sitting in the back seat.)

Do you know any backseat drivers?

Father: George, I want you to drive slowly and carefully, and put on your seat belt. We have plenty of time.

George: What time is your flight, Dad?

Father: At 6:00 P.M.

George: That's in three hours! You have two extra hours. The trip to the airport is less than an hour.

Father: You should always arrive at least two hours before departure. We might run into traffic at this time of day. Why are we taking this road?

George: Because it's quicker.

Father: You can't be serious! You should use the highway. It's faster because it's more direct. Turn right at the next traffic light. Hey, don't go so fast. Slow down!

George: Dad, the speed limit here is 70 kilometers per hour, and I'm doing 60.

Father: Be careful! You almost hit that car. You have to watch out for traffic.

The end

Teaching Tip

When you assign students a task to do in class, be sure to set a time limit. Students will work more efficiently and concentrate more on their task if they know they must finish within a certain amount of time, and you will also be better able to organize your class in this way.

Additional Activity

Have students create another conversation. This time, the driver is driving safely and the passenger is in a hurry, urging the driver to go faster. Have them decide where they are going and why it is important for them not to be late. Have each pair act out the conversation for the class. Have the class vote on the best conversation.

fun facts

The legal driving age is different around the world. The driving age in most areas ranges from 16 to 18 years of age.
